choose one to prepare himself for almost any career.

Classes

Our English classes still read the classics, among them The House of the Seven Gables, A Tale of Two Cities, and Hamlet. By studying dramatics, students learn to express themselves through both speech and gesture. The sports section of the newspaper aids in the study of sentence condensation. Drill in spelling and punctuation never ends.

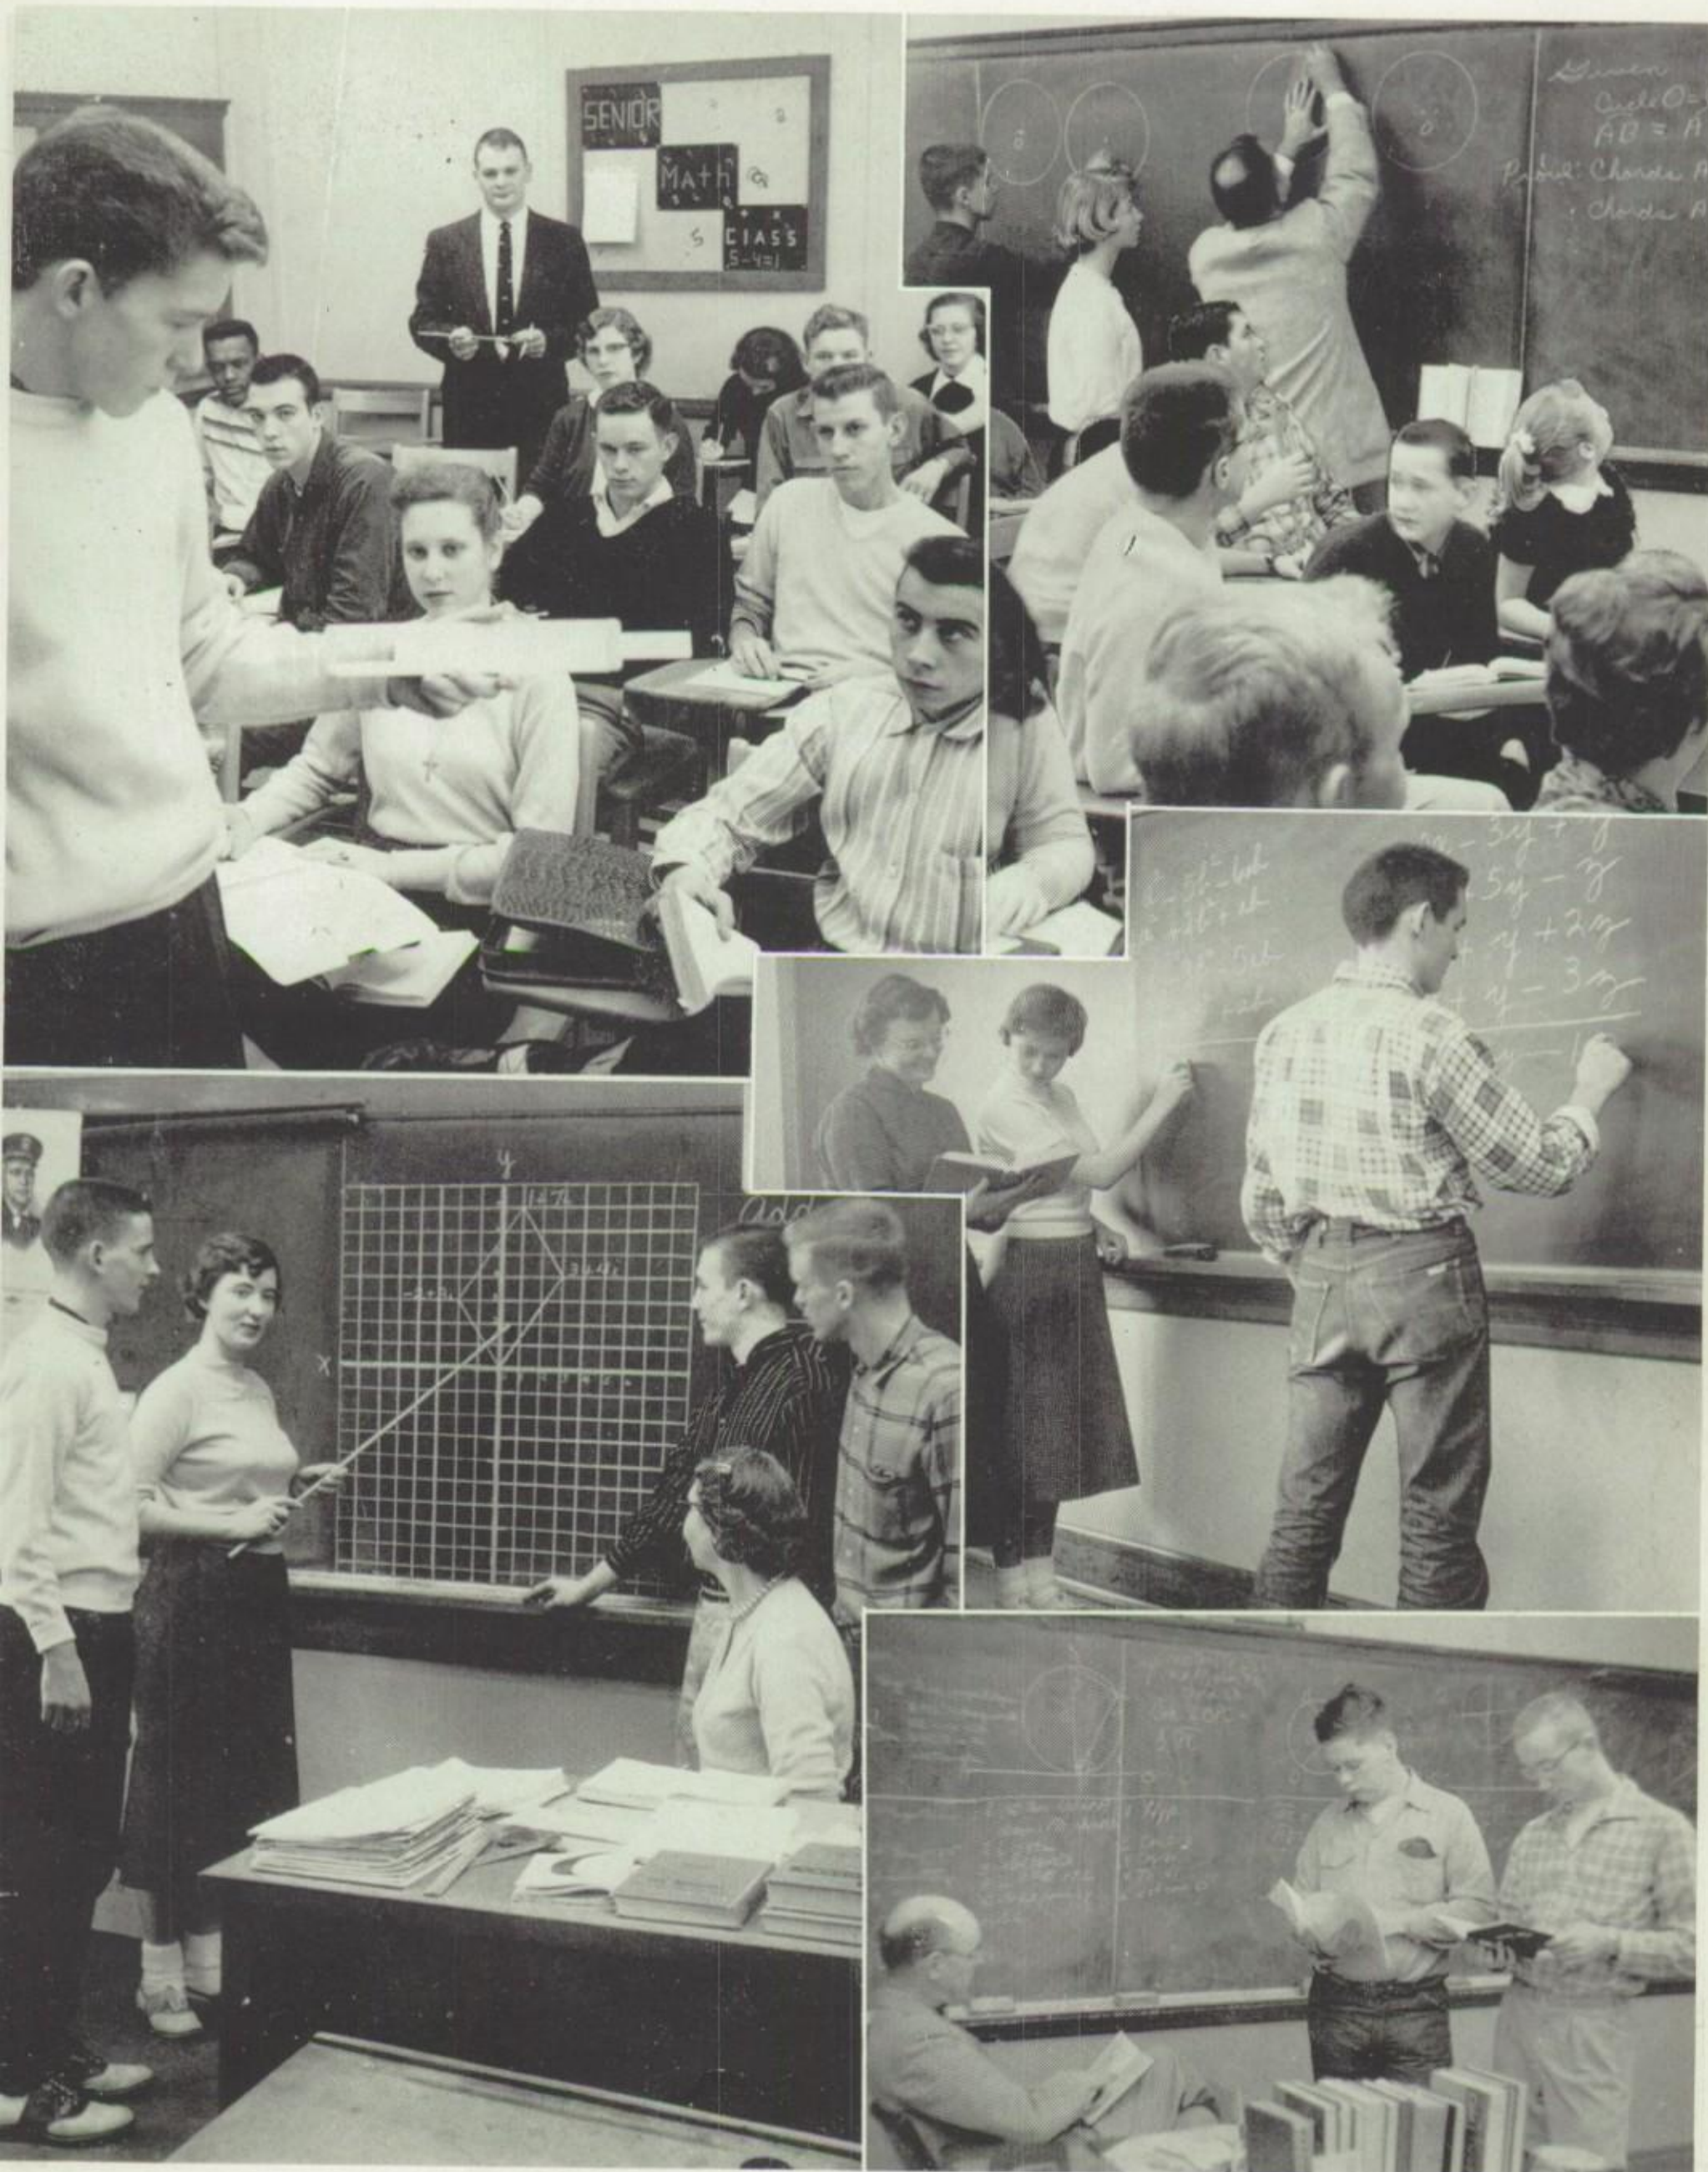

A journalism class learns how to compose a lead paragraph. Diagramming aids in sentence construction. Through practice with the accelerator, students learn to increase both their reading speed and comprehension. A dummy camera helps speech classes gain confidence for actual appearances. Using word cards, students increase their vocabularies.

Classes

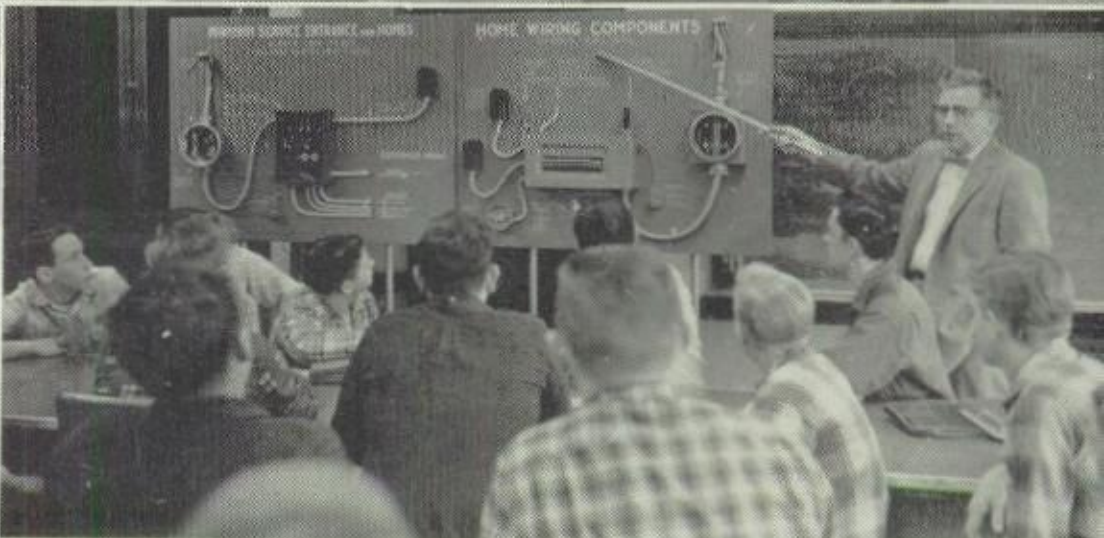

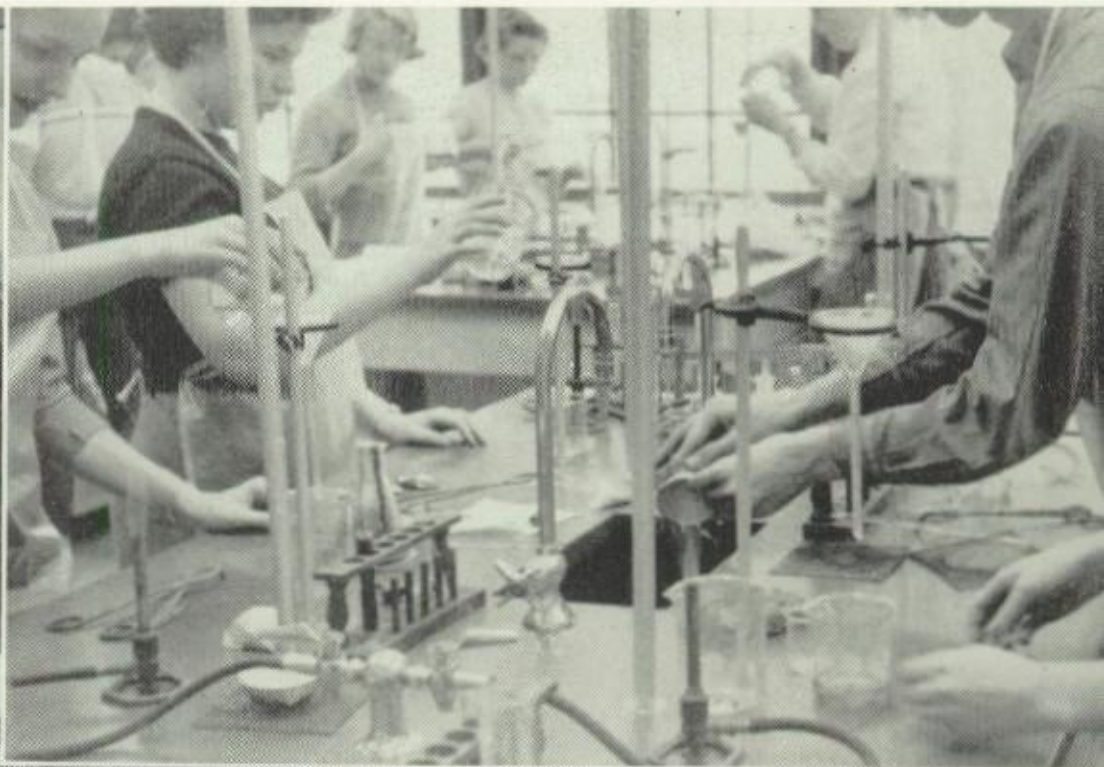

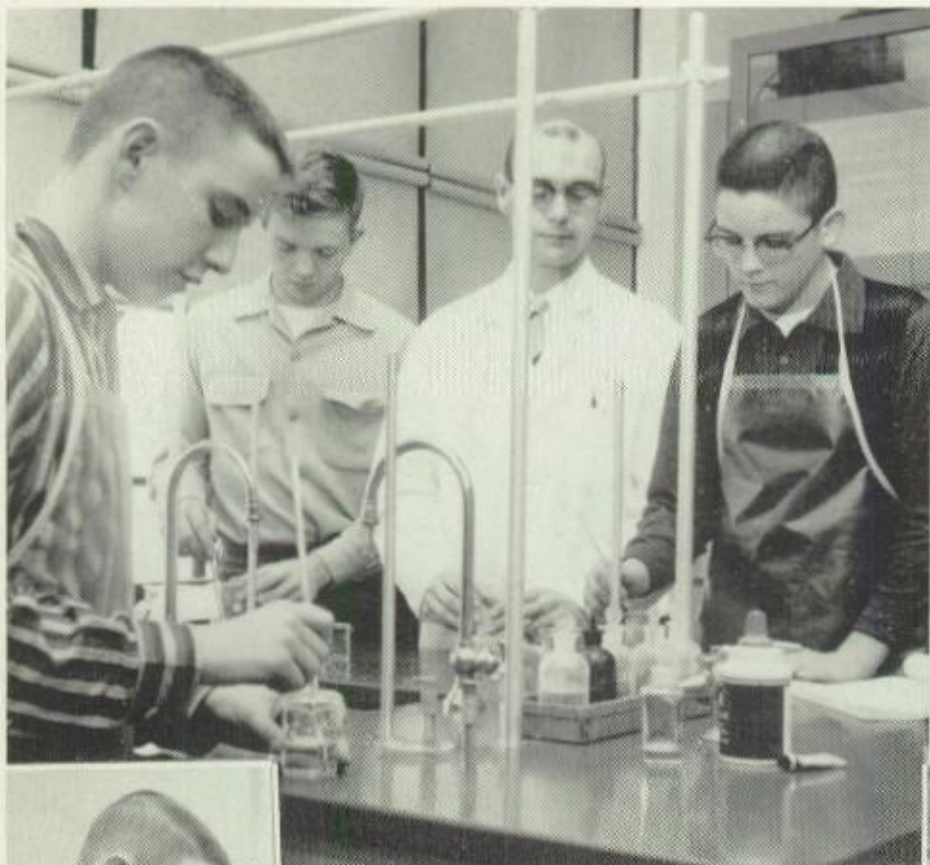

Mock elections, including receiving and counting boards, help history classes to realize the importance of voting. The weekly use of news magazines keeps classes up-to-date on current affairs. Source material for American problems is gathered in the library.

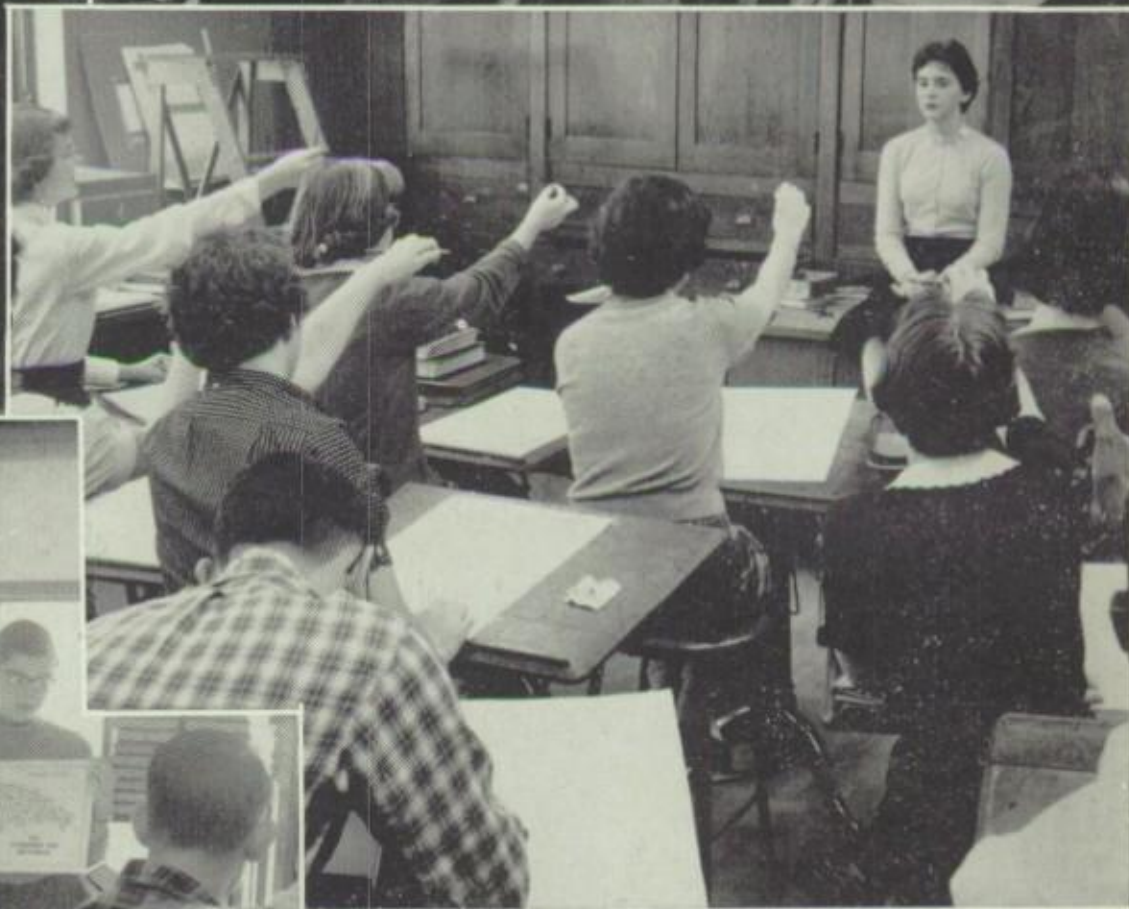

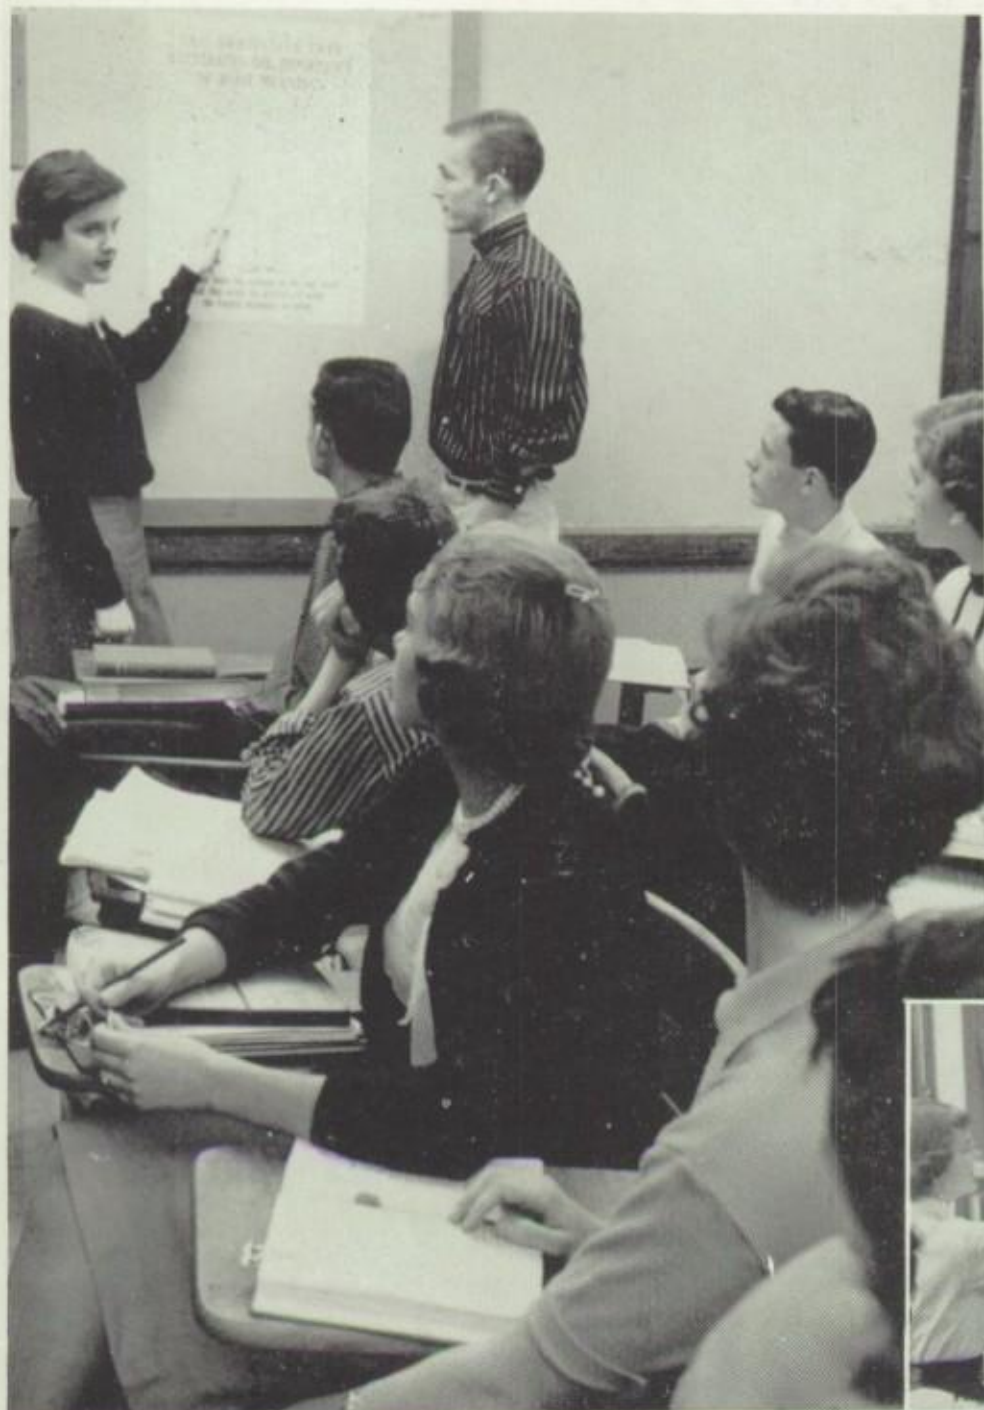

Senior math classes work practical problems with the slide rule. Board work helps geometry and algebra I students to understand their problems. A study of graphs is part of the algebra II course. Mr. Armstrong's eight to eight-thirty class is for those who want further instruction in solid or trig.

Classes

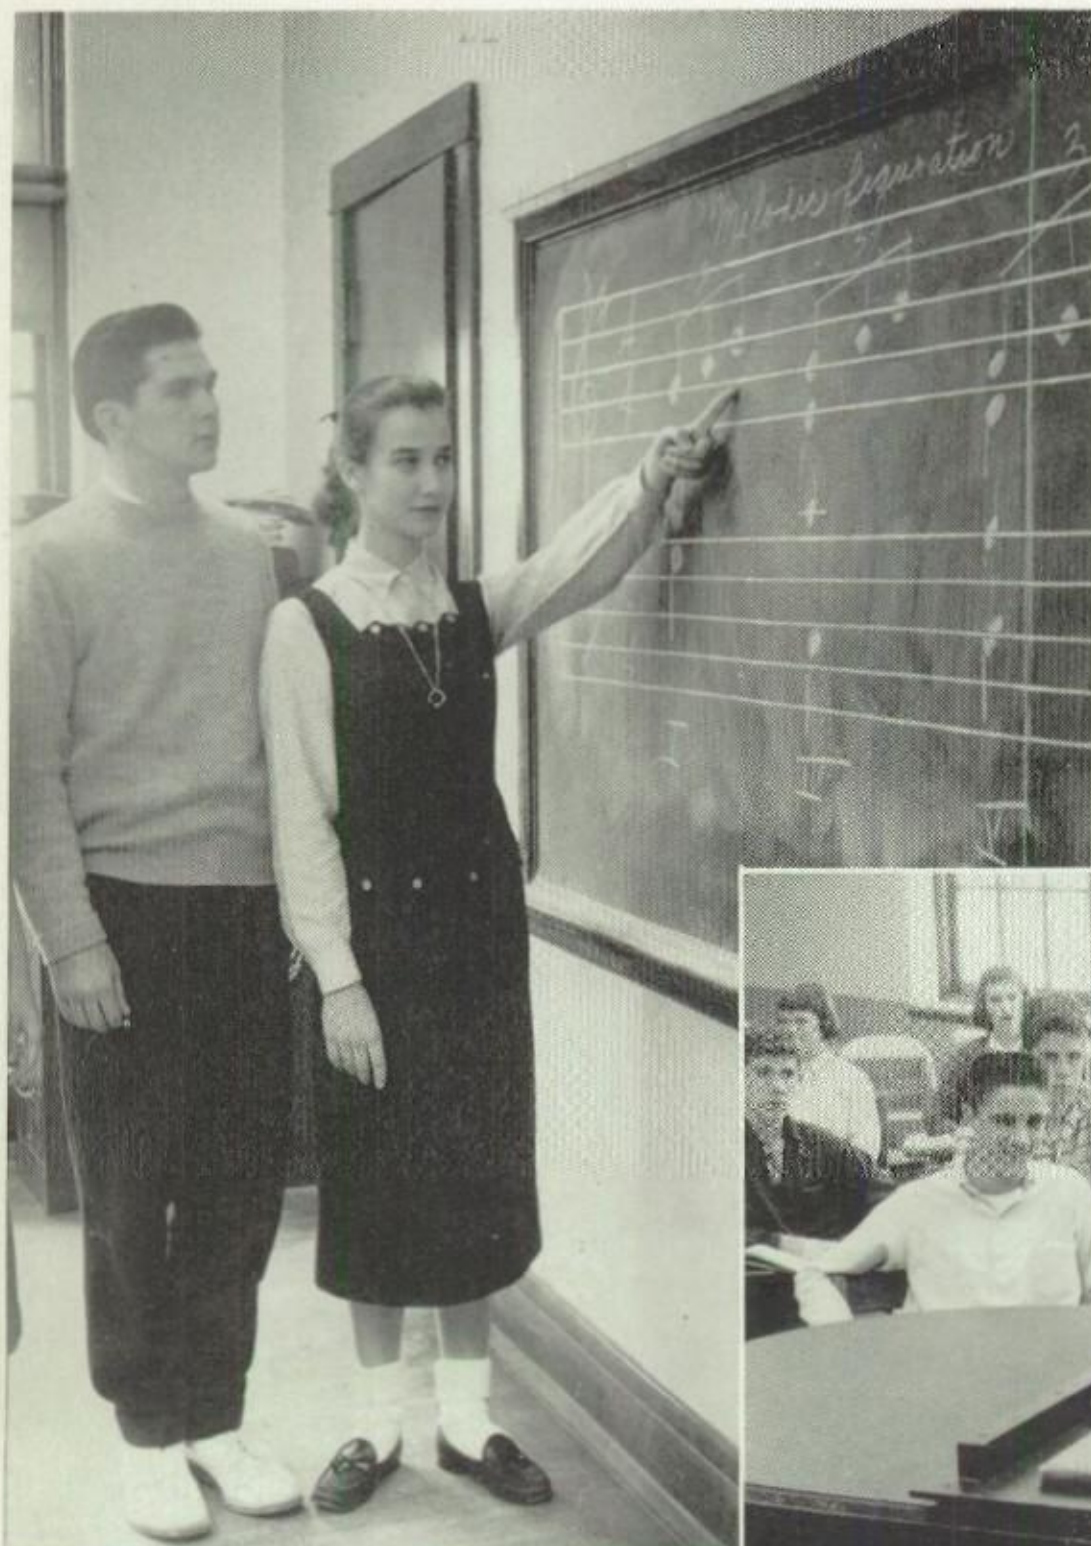

The new chemistry lab helps make experiments easier to do, as well as more fun. Bone formation, the circulatory system, and cell structure are part of the study in biology. Electricity class studies transformers, and physics students experiment with the intensity of light.

Latin derivations are made clearer through the use of a word tree. Flash cards help French students acquire a longer vocabulary. Spanish classes make posters to aid their study. Portrait sketching and poster making are part of the art course.

Classes

Harmony class studies involved composition. Throughout the day instruction is offered to small groups in both band and orchestral instruments. A large per cent of the student body study vocal music, requiring the full time of three instructors.

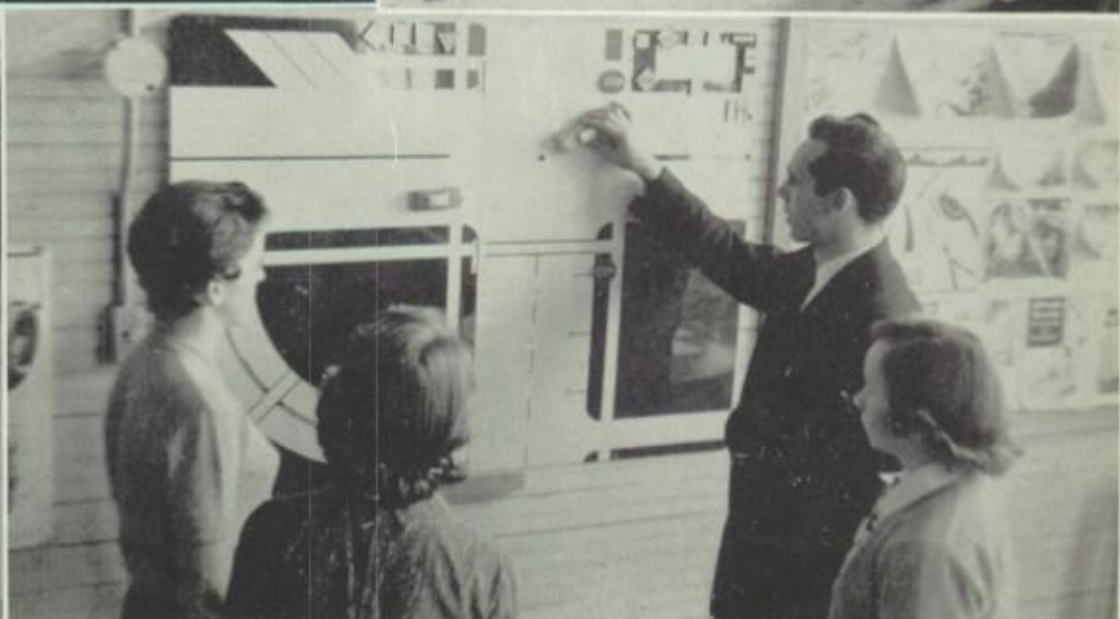

Visual aids help shorthand students. Commercial students learn how to use other office machines as well as the typewriter. Co-operative office practice and distributive education students learn in on-the-job situations in local stores and offices.

Classes

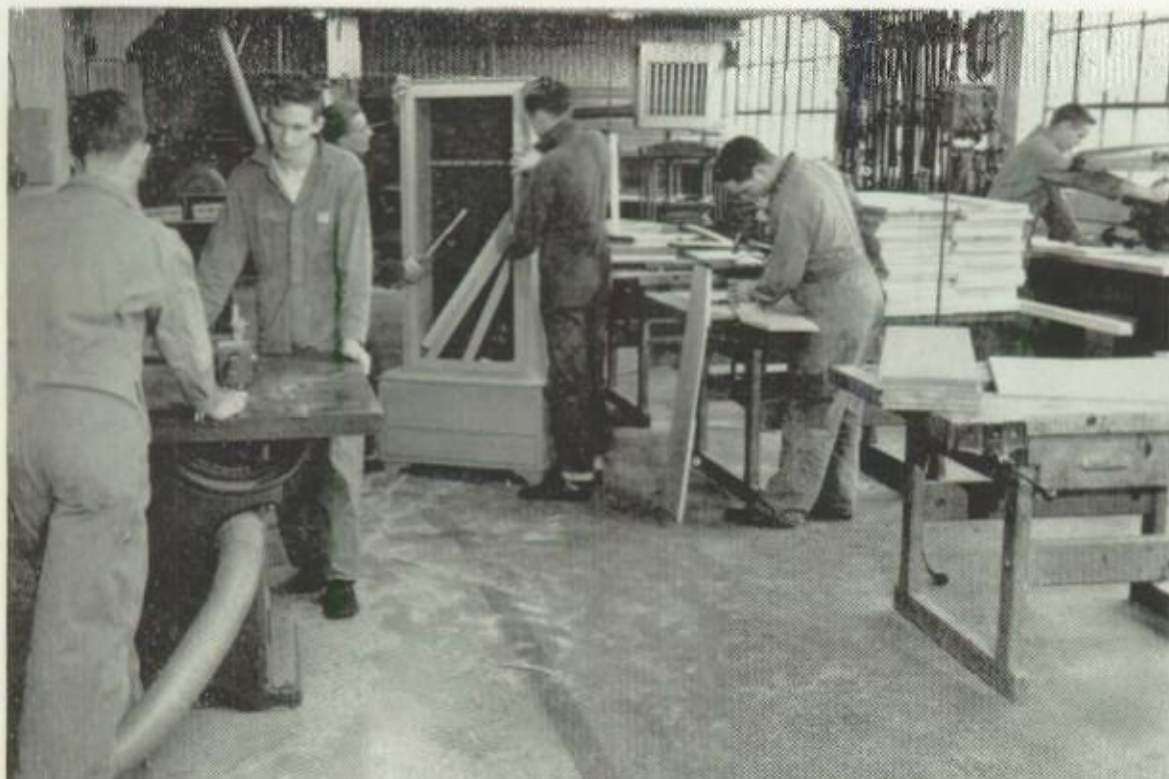

How to take measurements and use a pattern to cut out a garment are part of the instruction in the clothing course. In the foods course, future homemakers learn to prepare a properly balanced meal. To round out the home economics curriculum, girls receive training in the nursery.

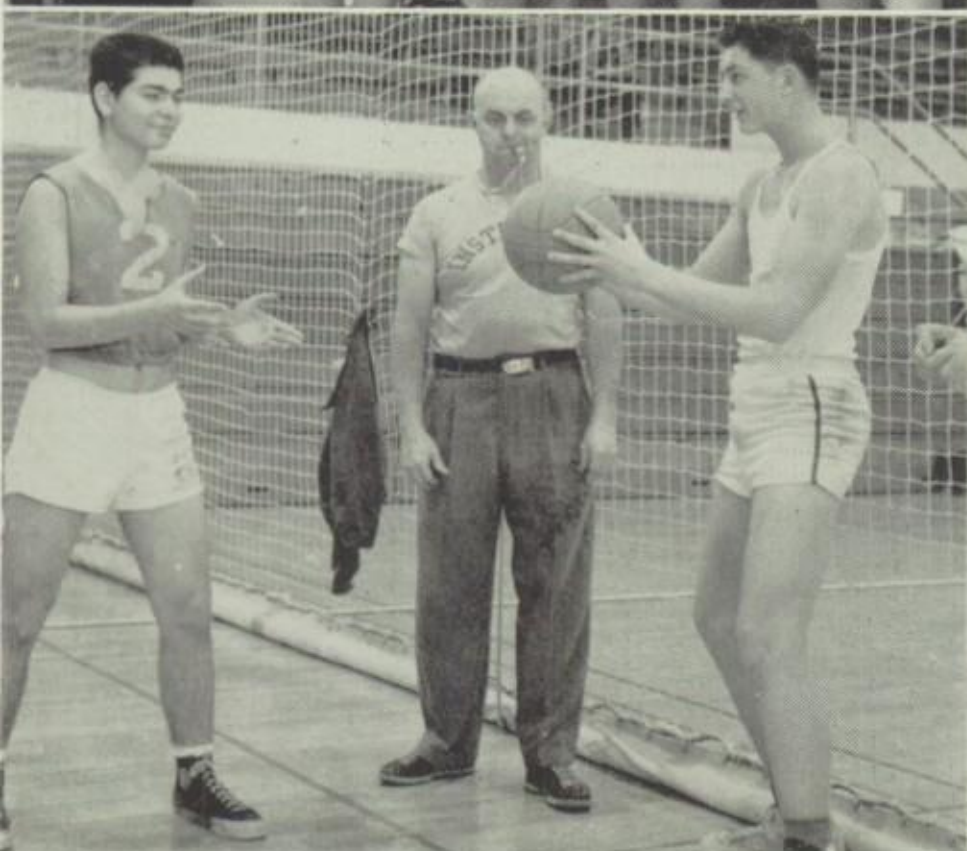

Boys in mechanical drawing classes prepare blueprint plates. Vocational agriculture students test the acidity of the soil. Industrial arts classes work with both wood and metal to make useful and ornamental objects. By means of a magnetized board, driver training students study traffic problems.

Classes

The Vocational Trades Division of the high school offers advanced training in six fields—wood, sheet metal, machine, air, electricity, and automobile mechanics. These boys put their training to practical use by building and repairing equipment not only for themselves, but for the school.

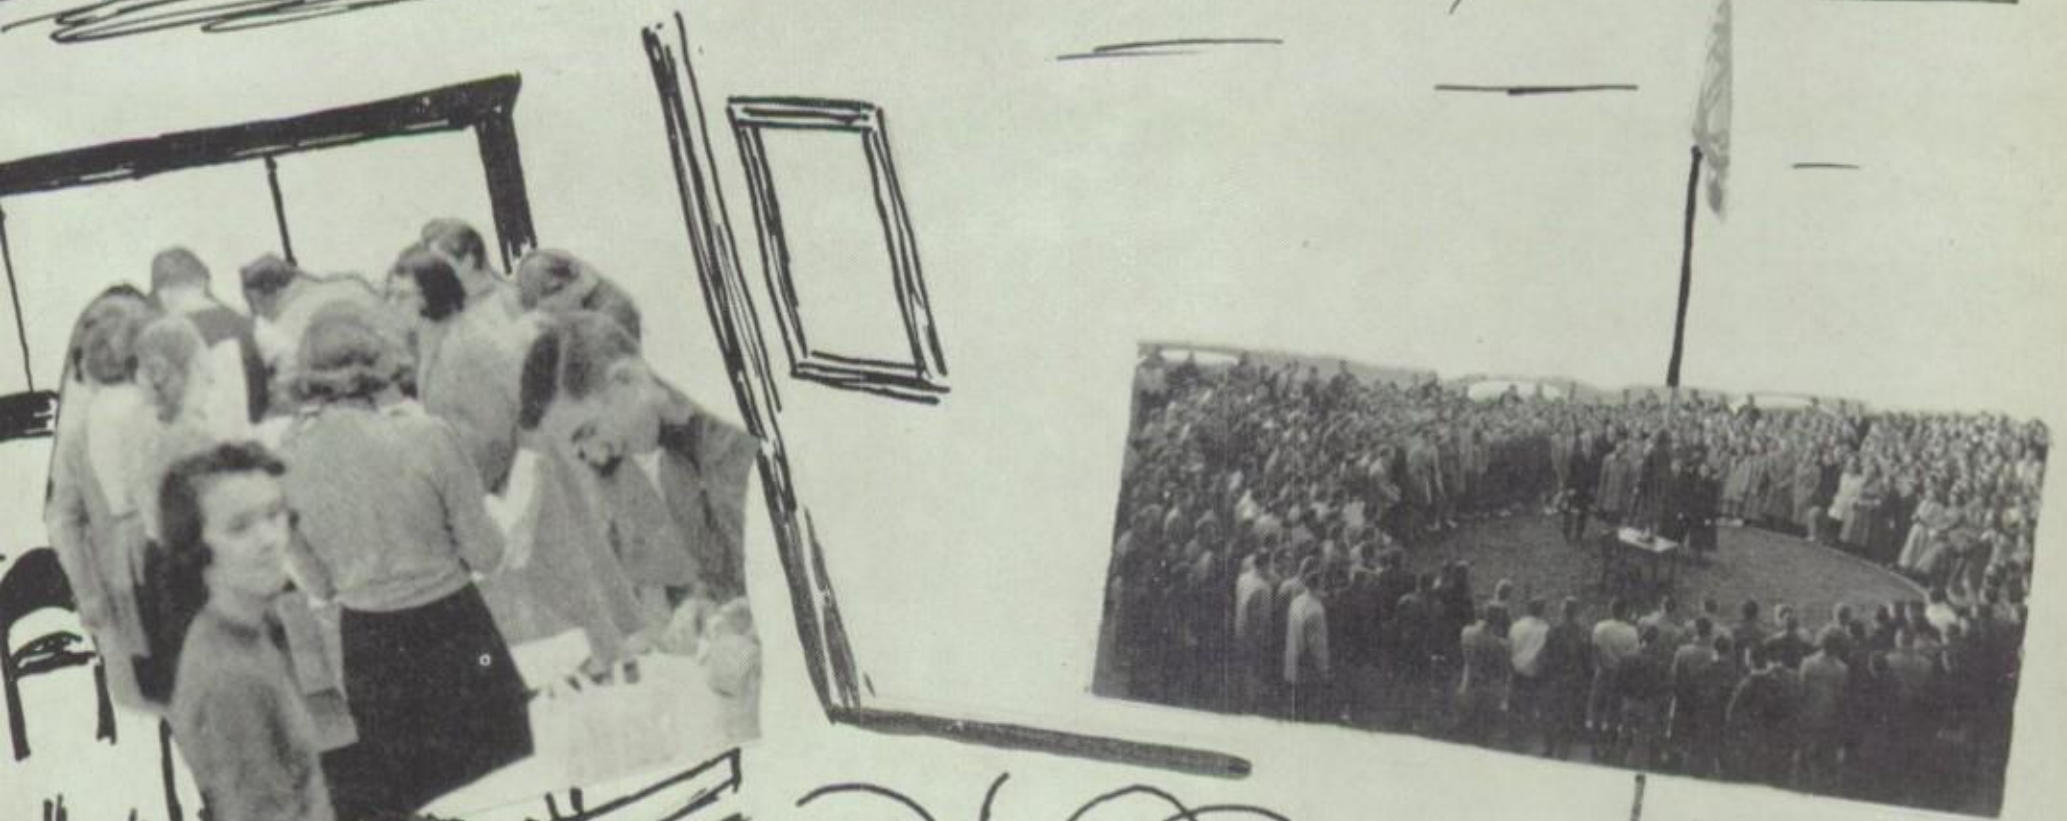

Rhythmic gymnastics and dancing help to develop good posture. In their physical education classes boys learn the techniques of wrestling and through use of equipment such as the high bar and trampoline develop their bodies and learn co-ordination. Basketball as well as other games teaches team work.

PRIORS

The collage features several black and white photographs and hand-drawn elements. At the top left, the word "PRIORS" is written in large, bold, sans-serif capital letters. Below it, a photograph shows a student with long hair sitting at a desk, looking down at a book or paper. To the right of this, another photograph shows a student with long hair sitting at a desk, looking down at a book or paper. Below these, a large photograph shows a student sitting at a desk, looking down at a book or paper. To the right of this, a photograph shows a student sitting at a desk, looking down at a book or paper. At the bottom, a large photograph shows a group of students gathered around a table, looking at books or papers. The collage is decorated with hand-drawn lines and patterns, including a brick wall on the left and a bookshelf on the right.

CLASS SONG

"When High School Days Are Over"

When high school days are over
And success is ours to find,
We will think of the wonderful days gone by
And all our friends so kind.

If we hope for success tomorrow,
And all that life can hold,
We must give of ourselves today
To achieve our highest goals.

As we enter the gates of life,
We would like to say to you,
To our dear Alma Mater true,
We fondly bid adieu.

Senior Play - - The Whole Town's Talking

Row one: Richard Calendine, Judy Belt, Carolyn Kelley, Gene Hague, Herbert Sams, Lillie Stone, Bob Wamsley.
 Row two: Mrs. Merrill, Barbara Murray, Sharon Wineman, John Carpenter, Toby Crofton, Charlotte Greene, Barbara Prunty, Melinda Johnston.
 Inset—four at right: Ann Stiles, Elizabeth Beall, Ann Spiker, Mary Seros.

The senior class chose for their class play The Whole Town's Talking, the three act farce by John Emerson and Anita Loos. The plot of the play develops around the Simmons family, particularly involving Mr. Simmons, his daughter, and Chester Binney. The entrance of Lettie Lythe, a movie actress, adds more confusion to the already complicated situation.

Portraying the different characters are Eugene Hague, Mr. Simmons; Carolyn Kelley, Harriet Simmons, his wife; Lillie Stone, Ethel, their daughter; Herbert Sams, Mr. Simmons's business partner; Judy Belt, Letty Lythe; Richard Calendine, Donald Swift, a motion picture director; Robert Wamsley, Roger Shields, a young Chicago blood; Melinda Johnston and Nina Yearego, Lila Wilson and Sally Otis respectively, friends of Ethel; Charlotte Greene, Annie, the maid; Toby Crofton, Sadie Bloom, a dance instructor; John Carpenter, the taxi driver; Elizabeth Beall, Mrs. Jackson, the nosy neighbor; Ann Stiles, Ann Spiker, and Mary Seros, neighborhood girls.

The student director was Barbara Prunty, and the bookholders were Barbara Murray and Sharon Wineman.

The committees were—properties: Elizabeth Beall, Bill Leeson, Mary Seros, Jane Rose Marshall, Andrea Clendenin, Dianne Leary, James Whitlatch, Donna Wilson; make up: Ella Mae Riddle, Pat Joyce, Audrey Harvey, Priscilla Whitlatch, Ann Stiles, Joe Greathouse, Jackie Everson, Mary Seros; costuming: Ann Stiles, Tom Cain, Pat Wiblin, Carol Ann Cottrill, Ann Spiker.

The play was presented May 16 and 17 to large audiences whose many comments were favorable.

privileges; then came commencement, the end.

Color Day . . .

Second only to graduation, Color Day at Parkersburg High School was the day most anticipated by the seniors. This year, the "wearing of the colors" was celebrated on February 13, but numerous hours of planning and preparation were in order before that time.

At the first of the year the color committee suggested several combinations to the class for their selection, and after a spirited consideration of all presented, they showed their preference to be aqua and black.

Next in order, was the designing and making of the flag. Roger Jones received the credit for designing the flag of aqua and black taffeta, which was made through the patient effort and meticulous skill of Ella Mae Riddle. Because these two students did such a good job, the 1957 senior class boasted one of the most attractive flags ever to ascend the flagpole.

On the morning of this notable day, the entire senior class donned their distinguished hues, gathered around the flagpole, and sang their class song as they watched their banner being raised to its stately reign over the school.

According to the careful planning and suggestions of the program committee, the motif of the day was "57 Varieties." A clever and original program was presented for the entertainment of the entire school.

To climax the occasion, a gala evening party was enjoyed by an attractively attired throng of seniors. The gym had been beautifully trimmed by the decorating committee with black and aqua crepe paper; and, as a finishing touch to the exquisite decorations, the fountain which had been used on the home-coming float was placed in the center of the dance floor.

When the last song had been played and the last dance completed, a bevy of happy but sleepy seniors went home to add cherished souvenirs to their scrap-books.

HOMEROOMS

Student Council

Through the Student Council all students of the school may be informed of the news which is of interest to them; thereby they may play an important part in the function of P. H. S.

Each home room elects a member to serve as its Council representative, and that representative reports to his or her classmates matters of interest concerning the school. For the first time in several years, all home rooms are represented in only one Student Council, for P. H. S. is now operated on a four-year plan.

The Student Council, as any other well-organized body, has committees which assume individual tasks to share in the responsibility. The homecoming committee, for example, lays the blue print for the homecoming activities. The attractive and decorative floats for the parade and numerous other homecoming functions are carried on under their supervision.

Another most important group is the nominating committee. After many weeks of interviewing, discussing, and evaluating, the members of the committee select a slate of student body officers.

It includes two candidates for each of the following offices: president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer.

Supporting various drives, among them the March of Dimes and the Junior Red Cross, is one of the responsibilities of the Student Council. Through the work of the Council, many homerooms share with the needy in our community by preparing baskets or donating money. Many families were made happier at Christmas through this giving.

With the purpose of offering recreation for our students, the Council also sponsors "sock hops," which are held in the Field House and are planned with various novelty dances and entertainment.

The Council is a member of the State Student Council, and the Blennerhasset District Student Council. The three members representing us at the state meeting were: Frances Blair, Ann Palmer, and Okey Phares, our student body officers. Representing us at the district meeting were Pat Joyce, Carolyn Summers, DeWitt Beall, and Kay White. Miss Musgrave and Miss Neptune serve as adviser and assistant adviser for the Council.

President: Frances Blair

Vice-President: Okey Phares

Secretary-Treasurer: Ann Palmer

ACTIVITIES

Typical Club Activities

T-T Art Club works with clay. Mountain Music boys tune up for club program. College Club examine catalogues. Library Assistants work in stacks. Parlor Magic members do the impossible. Hunting and Fishing Club give the finishing touches to their bows. Folk dancers work out their squares. A Thespian gives an impersonation.

Parhischan Staff

Row two: Charlotte Greene, co-editor; Phyllis Wilmoth, feature and editorial writer; Sandra Stebbins, co-editor; Miss Edmondson, adviser; Carolyn Summers, editor of departments of instruction; Pauline Stephens, home room editor; Sandra McPeck, business manager; Nina Fletcher, feature editor.

Deadline—April 1. That would have been the fatal day for the 1957 Parhischan staff had they not had this volume of "School Days" in the hands of the printer. The staff and their adviser worked the fourth and fifth periods, and many noon hours, evenings, Saturdays, and Sundays.

The selection of a theme, layout, and cover was interrupted early in the fall with the taking of pictures—senior, faculty, homeroom, and activity. Subscriptions were taken soon after that. Then came the seemingly never-ending task of mounting pictures, writing all kinds of copy, typing thousands of names, and checking and re-checking everything.

Sprinkled between these days were many good times, including steak dinners, Christmas caroling, parties, and frequent refreshments—coke and candy. Only Entre Nous could outdo the staff in their gastronomic performances.

This year for the first time the Parhischan boasts a colored picture, the gift of Jim and Paul, our friendly, co-operative, and helpful photographers.

Each year, in the spring, juniors who are interested in working on the staff are given an opportunity to file an application for membership. From these, the staff for the following year is selected. Since this group must, without any previous preparation or experience, put out a yearbook, it is necessary that they be good students, dependable, capable, and loyal.

Parhischan Agents

Row one: Russ Swain, Fred Daniels, Ed Nulter, Steve Collins, Earle Helmick, Waide Mills, Everett Reed, Donna Jones, Sue Bush, Judy Goudy, Peggy Miller.
 Row two: Patricia Allen, Janet Grewell, Grace Johnson, Pearl Rutherford, Louverna Leep, Martha Crawley, Anne Davis, Lois Costable, Dolores Ford, Harold Morehead, William Maxwell, Clara Harris, Harvey Barnhouse, Brenda McKibben.
 Row three: Kay McCutchen, Donna Cooper, Beverly Foreman, Karen Smith, Diane Friedlander, Anne Lowe, Dorothy Wells, Russ Smith, Duane Rhyne, Edith Stewart, Judy Bush, Marilyn Clem, Diane Dulany.

Parhischan Agents were those boys and girls who took yearbook subscription in their homerooms. They were selected by their homeroom teachers for their accuracy, dependability, and regular attendance at school.

During five Mondays, from the last of October until the first of December they collected approximately twenty-three hundred subscriptions. The plan of making payments over a period of weeks is used so that those who want to, may take advantage of installment buying.

PARHISCHAN Staff at work

Preparing art work for div pages. Typing copy. Trimming and mounting pictures. Writing features. Resting between pictures while helping the photographer with group shots.

 y five: Russel Lynch, Mike Deskins, Loyde Hartley, Jim Riggs, Steve McWhorter, Willard Hughes, Kendall ster, James Summers, David Ritter, Gerald Bailes, Zelma Worth, Sue Dulaney, James Lanham.

Each Monday after taking their subscriptions, the agents turned in their receipts and money to the Parhischan Staff, who then packaged it and turned it over to the school cashier.

The staff appreciated the excellent cooperation and work the agents gave them this year. To do all the "bookkeeping" and keep accurate accounts requires level head, for, in homerooms where there are many subscriptions to take, there is usually considerable confusion.

Evolution of a JOURNAL Story

Holding an interview for a story. Typing the story. Composing a headline to fit the space. Selecting a picture to illustrate the story. Making the layout.

Journal Staff

The members of the Journal Staff constitute one of the busiest groups at P. H. S. Many hours of diligent work are spent, including noon hours and after school, in publishing the Parkersburg High School Journal. The staff is composed of editors and assistant editors while the first year journalism students act as reporters. All journalism students serve as copyreaders and some of them as typists, assisted by the "co-op" students.

All the staff members must have searching eyes and open ears so that the latest news can be included in each bi-weekly newspaper. Second year students act as advisers to the first year; they see that stories are written and re-written in order to meet deadlines. After every headline is written and each story is corrected and spaced off on a dummy, the Journal is sent to press. Immediately, stories are assigned for the next issue, and the staff repeats the same routine, producing a grade "A" high school newspaper.

Honors the Journal has received prove that it is an outstanding publication. The ratings it now holds are: First Honors in High School Newspapers in West Virginia State Competition, the George H. Gallup Award for service to the school and community, International Honors from Quill and Scroll, and the Columbia Medalist Award.

Scrivener Chapter of Quill and Scroll

To be a member of Quill and Scroll is the aim of almost every student of journalism, but first he must meet certain requirements. He must have had a half year of journalism in which he has "A," a general scholastic average of "B," the recommendation of his adviser, and the approval of the international executive secretary. Membership in Quill and Scroll merits any journalism student's best efforts.

News Bureau

Row one: Bryl Woodford, Mrs. Clark, Keith Walters.
 Row two: Betty Hart, Elaine Craven, Twila Thompson, Bobbie Brown, Naomi Woolard, Barbara Petty.

Informing the public of activities at Parkersburg High School is the primary function of the News Bureau. Every day, the Bureau sends stories of public interest to the Parkersburg News and Parkersburg Sentinel, and also supplies some material to the radio and television studios. All school events, except athletics, are publicized by these students.

Masque and Gavel, a national honorary society, has two main objectives: to honor the outstanding high school speech student and to promote the community's interests in this field. In fulfilling their purposes, each year they sponsor the West Contests, through which students may participate in oratory, debate, extemporaneous speaking, and prose interpretation. To have some fun and to raise funds, they annually present a play, but the tapping of new and honorary members into Masque and Gavel on Tap Day is their red letter day.

Freshman Speech Club

Realizing that correct speech is helpful in the successful completion of any endeavor, these freshmen met each Thursday to engage in speech activities. By recording and listening to their voices, they were able to improve diction. Then through panel discussions, debates, and class discussions they improved their public speaking. In March they gained actual experience before an audience by participating in the Junior West Contest.

President: Nina Freed

Row one: Carolyn Daggett, Barbara Parsons, Carol Padgett, Bonnie Bowersock, Peggy Heaney, Margaret Davis, Sharlene Rowan, Patty Pierard, Sara Leach.
 Row two: Carol Busby, Linda Ross, Libbie Wieder, Sandra Riddle, Marlene Reed, Janet Burgy, Patsy Hicks, Barbara Feeck, Margaret Reed, Irene Tebay, Mary Martin, Miss Boggess.
 Row three: Elinor Hamill, Sue Dulaney, Leslie Ann Treat, Judy Ann Hopkins, Mary Battin, Roanna Arnott, Jean Cofer, Carolyn Smith.
 Row Four: Bob Burk, Dick Young, Nick Angelos, Ezra McIntire, Robert Hider, Jonnie Jackson, Gene Smith, Alan Leslie Klein.

The Speech Club offered its members practice in the art of communication as it applies to their everyday lives. The programs presented had great variety and interest, especially those featuring radio shows and panel discussions. These were the result of the actual work of the students, for the scripts were original and the discussions, which were timely, concerned current events and topics of immediate interest.

During the course of the year the students also were given the opportunity to record their voices on tape. This provided an excellent means for them to correct their own mistakes in speech.

Part of the club periods were devoted to individual student participation. Extemporaneous work, oratorical speaking, debate, and prose selections were included in this phase of the club program. Speech students shared in the planning of the activities. The very capable student leaders this year were Alan Klein, Carolyn Smith, Jean Cofer, and Bob Burk.

Through the varied activities of this club, members were given the opportunity better to prepare themselves for life with its varied occupations.

Red Masque Dramatics Club

Row one: Judy Ammons, Karen Smith, Marcia Farnsworth, Dixie Moss, Rosie Jenkins, Sue Bennett, Dianne Patterson, Dolores Ford, Donna Tawney, Karen Marlow, Becky Marlow, Connie Warfield, Sue Cheatham, Jill Hawkinson, Diane Beckett.
 Row two: Mrs. Johnston, Rita Patterson, Charlotte Sheppard, Carole Kay Allen, Janet King, Shirley Wilson, Jean Starcher, Vera Lewis, Mary Young, Janet Sue Kidd, Sharon Walker, Connie Bowers, Vaneta Ott, Donna Murphy, Barbara Wright, Bonnie Jo Miracle, Sue Bole, Mrs. Briscoe.

This year, two former freshman dramatics clubs, under the leadership of Mrs. Briscoe and Mrs. Johnston, merged to form a club of approximately seventy-eight members.

The aim of all members is to learn to act well. Though almost all their time is devoted to the study and practice of correct acting procedures, they also have instruction in the application of stage make-up.

During the course of the year, each member is required to present before the group a pantomime, a monologue, a poem, and a prose selection. Following each student's performance, he is given constructive criticism and helpful suggestions to aid him in overcoming his faults and improving his next presentation. Another requirement for each member is that in the spring he participate in the annual Junior West Speech Contest.

Row three: Karen McCutcheon, Caroline Moore, Philip Sturm, Dave Spindle, Susan Kesterson, Sharon Dailey, Jane Morrison, Ann Gilbert, Iris McConnell, Janet Eaton, Dianna Moore, Barbara Blair, Lois Costabile, Marcia Criss, Lola Dines, Sandra Farley, Glenna Lou Starcher.
 Row four: David L. Golding, Donna McGuire, Sandra McCrady, Judy Farrar, Anne Mayo, Linda Clay, Sandy Merrill, Shirley Stewart, Sue Walker, Becky Biddle, Linda Nay, Angela Foreman, Carroll Beha, Sue Reed, Linda Tomlinson, Judy Emrick, Marguerite Moats, Helen Horeck, Sandra Westfall.

Among their activities was the presentation of a cut from the Broadway musical Of Thee I Sing for the annual Journal Talent Show. Through their participation in this production, all the members gained a great deal of practical experience and enjoyment. At other times during the year, they presented several plays: The Admiral's Daughter, The Importance of Being Ernest, Tom Sawyer, Silas Marner, and Not Fit for Man or Beast.

By participating in these varied theatrical activities, the members learned to overcome two handicaps that are obstacles not only in acting, but also in life—stage fright and lack of poise. Perhaps from this group will rise the Thespians of tomorrow.

By giving pantomimes, readings, and short dramatic productions, members of Sophomore Dramatics Club 121 learned some of the principles of speaking and acting. To highlight the year's dramatic activity, they presented "Exclusive Model" and "Major for a Day" before several other clubs. Student sponsors Lillie Stone and Sharon Wineman assisted Mrs. Droppleman with the instruction.

President: David Heatwole

Secretary-Treasurer: David Ritter

Row two: Pat Hector, Mrs. Droppleman, Patsy C. Miller, Sharon Anderson, Karen Armstrong, Susan Parrish, Maxine Rogers, Carol Summers, Janet Hill.

Row one: Rebecca Martin, Ruth Ann Marks, Marty Cross, Mary Ann DePriest, Judy Nestler, Theda Kibler, Carolyn Lucas.
Row three: Susan Clouse, Helen Kathryn Peters, Joan Dawkins, Mary Ann Hyland, Terry Sue Cramer, Gloria Newlon, Bobbie Ann Boone, Betty Eaton, Ginny Trout, Jackie Welch, Peggy Shockey, Jenny Carder, Carolyn Golding, Barbara Leon.

As a special project this year, Dramatics Club 332 presented two short plays, "More Perfect Union" and "Little Women," for other clubs and the dramatics classes. Every member took some part whether it was to act or to work on make-up and props. The remainder of the year was spent performing monologues and pantomimes, and learning to apply make-up. Miss Taylor was assisted by Gerry Kart, Barbara Murray, and Sharon Garner.

Thespian Troupe 264

Thespian Troupe 264, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Merrill, is a national honorary dramatics club, whose aim is to produce student actors skilled in the dramatic arts. Each spring prospective members try-out by giving pantomimes and monologues. The names of those who are selected are announced at the senior class play.

During a typical club period in room 218, students may be found mumbling in a corner to themselves in an effort to memorize a monologue, or, perhaps, a group of students can be found pantomiming a recent movie to help improve their use of gestures and their communication with the audience. It is compulsory that each member present a program at least once a year.

When the group produces a play, all scenes are rehearsed until everything is letter perfect. That every participant has striven for perfection is always evident in the finished production. This year it was Night of January 16th, which played to a capacity audience.

Towards the end of the year, they again competed in the annual Drama Festival in Morgantown, where they have regularly been awarded superior rating.

Stage Crew and Club

Row two: Douglas Sinnett, Phil Kincaid, Bob Conger, Richard McCoy, Eric Marland, Robert Perkins, Francis Fischer.
Crew—Row three: Joe Corcoran, Wade Tennant, Norman Strate, Mrs. Wilson, Jon Canary, Don Kalkreuth, Vernon Beymer.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Wilson and their stage manager, Norman Strate, six boys performed the many duties required to maintain the stage. These include keeping the stage and its equipment—lights, sound system, scenery—in order, and operating the stage for all programs presented on it: school plays, concerts, revues, assemblies, and community programs which range from our Community Concert programs to political gatherings.

Personal Bookkeeping Club

"Making ends meet" and "balancing the budget" are problems that won't cause Mr. Derenburger's club members to burn the midnight oil. By working with Family Practice Sets, which provide practice in keeping records typical of private accounts—income, expenditures, and household budgets, they acquire information of value for any type of clerical work that might be involved in family, club, or church business.

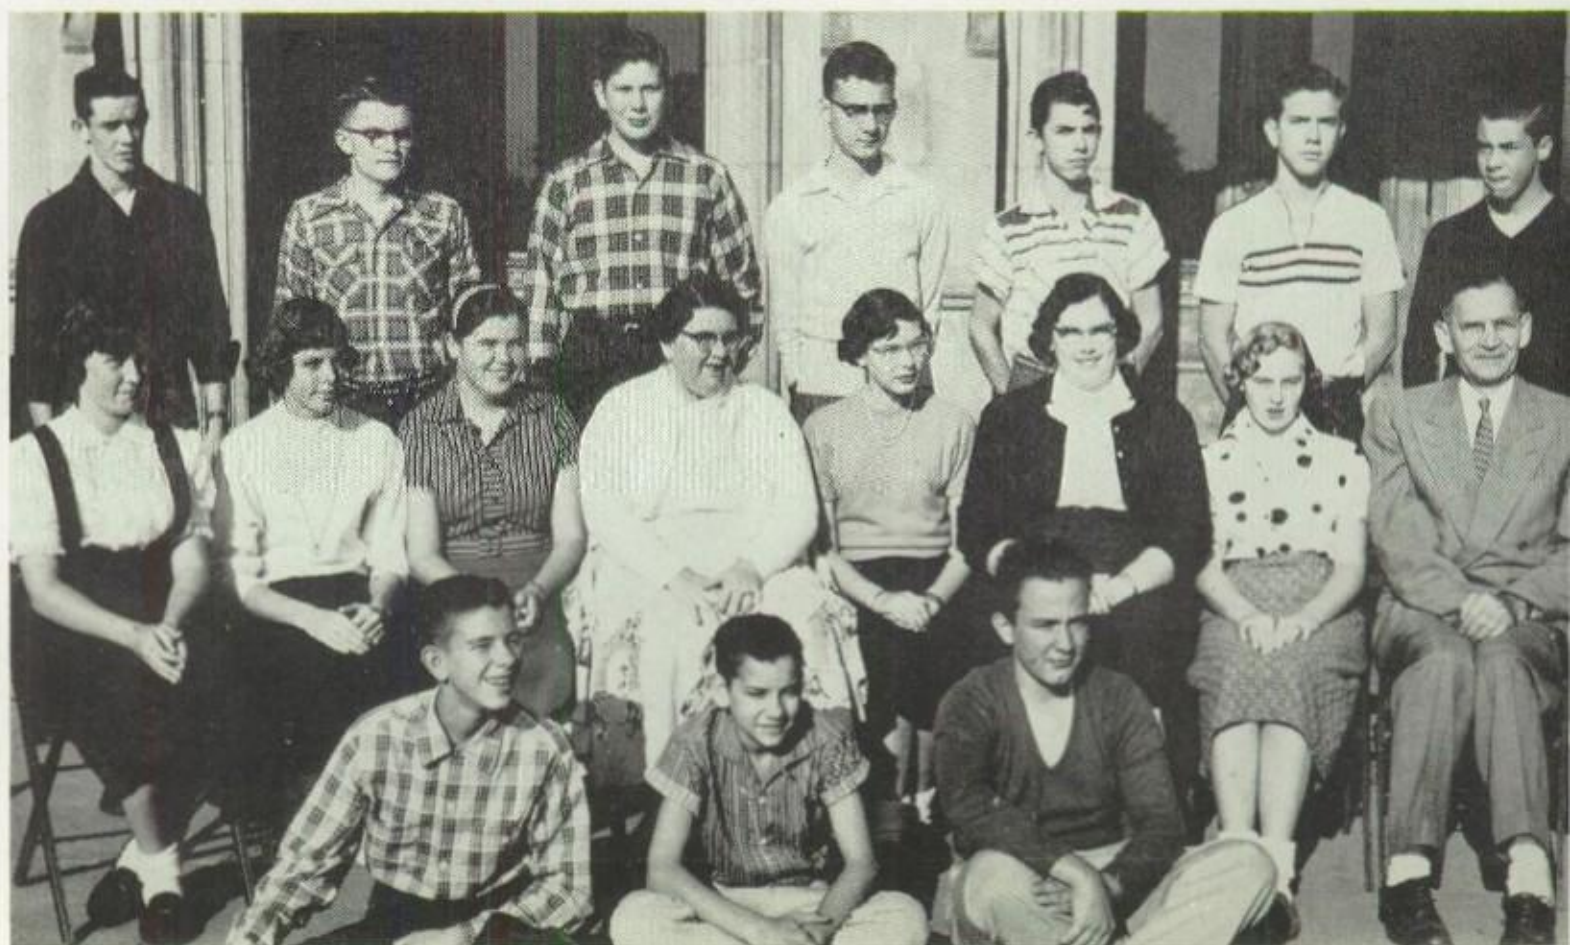

President: Carolyn Parsons

Secretary-Treasurer: Ida Mae Matheny

Row one: Paul Smith, Andy Wright, John Chumley.

Row two: Beulah Ferrell, Judy Little, Donna Evans, Jo Ann Hale, Sharon Lynn Davis, Ida Mae Matheny, Shirley McPherson, Mr. Derenburger.

Row three: Marvin Sams, Charles Carney, James McMurray, Harold Reed, Gail Lowe, Dwight Matlack, James Sams.

 Row two: Barbara Seebaugh, Betty Casto, Barbara Denison, Barbara McPherson, Patsy Lucas, Delores Bragg, Pauline Dye, Nancy Buchanan, Miss Pierce.
 Row four: George Hinkle, Max Burge, Richard Ferrell, Russell Rush, Jim Overton, Jim Eddy, John Ruf, Bunard DeVaughn, Tom Baumgartner, Earl Cowan, Harold Sole, Phyllis Vincent.

Each Thursday the members of ABC "D.E.C.A." met in room 230 to explore the opportunities in the field of retail selling so that they might make an intelligent choice of an occupation in the field of distribution. The students were taught to encourage the use of high ethical standards in business. Through the exchange of ideas, the development of a professional attitude toward their work was stimulated.

By means of group discussions, skits, demonstration, and projects, the members learned to foster a deep feeling of responsibility toward the business activities in which they were then engaged, or in which they will be engaged in the future. Projects, such as the correct procedure for an interview, presented by the members, added to the wealth of knowledge gained in various ways. On occasion, the group heard a guest speaker who is the owner or manager of a business in Wood County.

A majority of the members are now employed part time in various types of businesses. The businesses represented include the limited price variety, grocery, hardware, and department stores, service stations, theaters, and restaurants. Through knowledge gained in the club and on their jobs, these students are making very capable business people.

Spelling Club

Row two: Joseph Earl Life, Bernard Cothorn, Melvin Smith, Joyce Pugh, Ron Ward, Howard Whitlock, Mel Powell.

To develop better spelling habits and to widen their vocabulary is the aim of the members of Miss Waller's club. Student sponsors, Andrea Clendenin and Tom Cain, aid the members in all phases of their club work. Rules for spelling are studied and students try to correct their errors. Frequent tests are given so that each may determine his progress, both in vocabulary and spelling. During the course of the year, spelling matches are conducted.

President: Ronald Ward

Secretary-Treasurer: Bernard Cothorn

Typewriting Club 231

To increase their speed and accuracy, these first year typing students spend an hour a week in Typewriting Club. They participate in timed writings and learn the correct procedures of a stenographer—how to sit and how to hold a book. By correcting each other's papers, they acquire skill in proofreading. Besides using the manual typewriters, these girls learn to operate electric typewriters and other business machines, including the mimeograph.

President: Sue Stephens

Secretary-Treasurer: Janet Freed

Dictation and Transcription Club

Row one: Oralee Richardson, Judy Cumberledge, Charlene Modesitt, Phyllis Gaston, Shirley Gray, Evelyn K. Smith, Miss Balderson.
Row two: Elizabeth Ash, Diane Dulany, Roberta Hagsett.

Every Thursday these girls meet to further their knowledge of business machines and to increase their skill in typing and shorthand. As the name implies, they take dictation from their sponsor, Miss Balderson, and then transcribe their notes. Aside from dictation, they also work with various machines. Through their study of things pertinent to a business office, these girls hope to gain employment in the business world.

President: Judy Cumberledge

Secretary: Diane Dulany

Typewriting Club 235

Strictly an "opportunity" is this club, where the members have the chance to learn more about the typewriter and the mimeograph, and generally how to improve their typing skill. Any kind of typewriting may be done during club periods. Some of the more advanced students type stencils and mimeograph pamphlets. To become a member a student must previously have studied, or at the present time be studying typing.

President: Lois Coors

Secretary: Shelvia Harr

Row two: Gwendolyn Mae Kent, Ethel Ellen Coartney, Patsy Louise Dunlap, Barbara Jean Modesitt, Mr. Pearson, Donna Kay Wolfe, Shelvia Harr, Lois Coors.

Chess Club 223

Hoping to become better chess players, these boys met each Thursday under the sponsorship of Mrs. Schroeder and Gene Blamble. Some of the boys began the year with scant knowledge of the game, but soon, under the leadership of the more skilled players, all became qualified contenders in the weekly matches. Their club meetings were highlighted by elimination matches and tournaments.

President: Eugene Blamble

Vice-President: Gary Vaught

Secretary-Treasurer: John Flesher

Row two: George Bradley, Burl West, Larry Abbott, Eugene Blamble, Gayle Ruble, Tom Hoffman, Mrs. Schroeder.

Row three: Scott Bennett, Rodney Bell, William Gifford, Mike Hale, Gregory Hamilton, Larry Chichester, Ronald Goodwin, Gary Holbert, Kent Carder, David Flinn.

Under the student supervision of Glen Fetty, these freshman and sophomore students have attained a remarkable amount of skill in both chess and checkers. At the end of the year Club 215 challenged 202 to a tournament. Three matches were played, the champion being required to win two out of three games. The ability to accept defeat and the making of new friends are two more advantages the club affords.

President: Mike Hale

Secretary-Treasurer: Robert Cowell

Chess and Checkers Club 215

Chess Club 220

Though this group was organized to engage in that game of kings—chess—some seem to prefer checkers. It seems it would not be hard to start an argument as to the respective merits of the two pastimes. With Mr. Armstrong, the boys enjoy one day a week playing one or the other of the two games. The skill acquired at these games not only provides a lifetime recreation, but also helps the player to learn patience and caution.

President: Carl Gray

Treasurer: Randall Smith

Row two: Randall Smith, William Howard West, Gary Brown, Charles B. Fuchs, Gary Simmons, Charles Woolard, Chester Lemon, Mr. Armstrong, Paul Reese, Bill Wigal, David McGhee, Allen McNulty.

Row three: Bob DeMoss, Rod Seveke, Robert Stout, James Fry, William Lemley, Lewis Massey, David Knox, Dan Wiggins, Harold Riffle, Bruce Richardson, Steve Nutter, Eric Myrland.

Sometimes in later life a hobby or pastime can mean the difference between spending hours in leisurely enjoyment or watching restlessly the clock tick away tiresome and fretful hours. We can be sure that the twenty-six members in Miss Neptune's Chess and Checkers Club will belong to the former group. Through their weekly games and tournaments, the students acquire a skill of which they may well be proud.

President: Kenton Wamsley

Secretary: Carroll Perine

Student Sponsor: Robert De Moss

Chess and Checkers Club 202

Checkers Club 301

Much concentration, combined with the friendly spirit of competition, was evident as the members of Checkers Club 301 participated in their weekly meetings. Frequently, contests were held to determine the champion checkers player. Many good times were shared and much experience was gained during these bouts of genial rivalry.

Row one: Burl Life, Joe Holland, Jack Pfalzgraf, Charlie Williams, Ronald Abbott, Tom Wilcox, Clyde Gault, Leo Rawson.
Row two: Bunard DeVaughn, Danny Laird, Helen Mae Thompson, Leona Foggin, Ramona Ruddlesden, Gladis Creel, Martha Burner, Gene Metz, Tom Tucker.
Row three: Mrs. Treharne, Gary Wasson, Homer Means, Don Godfrey, James Wills, Edwin Seymour, Chiselyn Jonas, Merle Gilber, Calude Staats, Bill Phillips, Emmet Past, Bill McCartney, William Evans, Harold Myers.

Row one: Jim Miller, Donald Singer, Philip Blackwell, Bill McClung, Larry Rowley.

Just as there are masters of art, music, and writing, there are masters of the checkerboard. Every Thursday the players thoughtfully considered each move in an effort to win the day's match. Each week the race was narrowed down until finally a winner was declared. Another tournament was then set up and another expert discovered.

Scrabble Club

Scrabble is an entertaining game, and at the same time it has educational value. To increase their vocabulary and to have fun while doing it was the aim of this club. Miss Neal, the sponsor, remarked that competition ran high and that there were many cases where the dictionary had to be employed to clear up doubtful points.

The "Crown me!" and "King me!" coming from 333 had nothing to do with a coronation. They were the shouts of checkers players who were indulging in lively but friendly rivalry. This club afforded those interested in checkers the privilege of meeting others who have the same hobby, and matching their wits with them.

Girls' Social Games Club

That "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy" is as true of lassies as of lads. To guard against such dullness, the girls in this lively club had a delightful time each week learning how to plan recreation for home entertainment. A committee of two arranged the weekly programs which usually included both old and new games.

Quiet conversation broke into chortles and giggles as the students in Mrs. Congleton's club launched into their games. If you had visited them, you would have found a highly satisfied group engaged in mental competition. The numerous circles in the room would have been engaged in playing bingo, rook, checkers, or dominoes, or in learning some new games. Whatever the guys and gals were playing, you wouldn't have had to look twice to see that they were having fun.

Junior-Senior Folk Dancing Club

 Row two: Ilene Boone, Sue Long, Linda Flannery, Bonnie Folwell, Doris Jane Barnes, Freda Allman, Dianne Weaver, Betty Perkins, Delores Wright, Sue Woomer, Mrs. Bailey.
 Row three: Gene Enoch, Janell Engle, Martha Briggs, Shirley Buck, Rosita Pritchard, Wanda Roach, Wilma Roach, Janet Anthony, Jeanette Anthony, Onie Weaver, Sue Enoch.
 Row four: Howard Barker, Edwin Mills, Howard Cosner, Bill Whitecotton, Richard Shepherd, Jerry Robinson, Jerry Bowers, Vic Vecchio, Janice Kellar, Linda Kay Brown.

From this group of students was expected a high degree of perfection, for under the leadership of Mrs. Bailey, they engaged in the more advanced forms of dancing. Every allemande was counted out and given sixteen counts; every swing was given eight counts; thus, all the figures had a certain number of counts. When all phases of the dances were perfected, an inward feeling of satisfaction was felt by all participants who like to see "a job well done." Most of the members of the club were fairly good dancers, although some were still learning; but, with a little work, everyone developed acceptable styles and techniques.

Besides square dancing, many forms of American and European folk dances were practiced. Some of these were the Danish "Seven Steps" and Ireland's "Irish Washerwoman." One of the most interesting dances was the lively "Kor-bushka," a dance of Russian origin.

After perfecting several dances, the club chose the "Irish Washerwoman" to be presented in the Annual Sports Carnival. Through their performance in this carnival, they proved that they had attained their goal—perfection.

Freshman Folk Dancing Club

Row one: Howard Null (assistant), Fred Huntsman, Stanley McPherson, Gary Wether, Bill Higgins, Sandra Sadler, Geneva Casto, Judy McCue, Regena Piggott.
 Row two: Connie Ruble, Carolyn Pickens, Esther Byers, Eileen Potts, Carolyn Santee, Marilyn Stutler, Patricia Lewis, Alberta Mills, Ethel Carpenter.
 Row three: Barbara Fowler, Betty Chichester, Loretta Caplinger, Shirley Beall, Sue Cunningham, Raenetta Ellyson, Sherry Armour, Mabel Caplinger, Dianna Richards, Sue Keith, Mrs. Bailey, John Riggs (assistant).
 Row four: Doris Hopkins, Joyce Mills, Priscilla Sams, Louise Dulany, Sharon Doolittle, Barbara Cline, Lois Postlewait, Elizabeth Perine, Sharon Davis, Nancy Gilchrist.
 Row five: Anna Skinner, Delores Jean Thorn, Marie Full, Shirley Brown, Pat Gorrell, Ella Rose O'Brien, Janet Foglesong, Joyce Abbott, Karin McPeck, Linda Hoy.

The purpose of this Freshman Folk Dancing Club, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Bailey, was to teach willing students some of the more difficult square dances. Some of the dances learned were "Butterfly Whirl," "Texas Star," and "There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight." The latter, a rather difficult dance, entails circling the set to allemande with one lady and then back across the set to the initial lady. Such dances as this required hard work and much concentration, but the real pleasure stemmed from the learning.

As the year progressed, the dances became more intricate and everyone renewed his interest in square and folk dancing.

Some of the members participated in the Sports Carnival, either with the senior club or in the other group dances. All members enjoyed learning the dances; and due to their very excellent performances, they were often asked to appear in various programs.

The members of the Freshman Folk Dancing Club, through their club participation, were given the opportunity to share with their fellow students the wholesome recreation derived from folk dances.

Mountain Music Club

A group of fellows who enjoy working on musical instruments and playing what is commonly called western style music constituted the membership of the Mountain Music Club. The music they played was similar to that heard on "Old Dominion Barn Dance" and "Hayloft Jamboree." As some of the members are very good singers, their renditions of the old ballads were very interesting and amusing to hear.

"Hunting fills my thoughts by day," agreed each boy in Mr. Wince's Hunting and Fishing Club. Their programs included quizzes about their favorite sports and discussions of the hunting and fishing regulations in West Virginia, with emphasis upon safety rules and better methods of hunting. Every meeting was not so quiet; however, for some time was devoted to making hunting bows.

One scarf, then two or three scarfs, a magic light bulb, and a deck of trick cards comprise part of the equipment used by Mr. McNemar's parlor magicians. Through participation in their weekly programs, the boys learned how to be the life of any party. Each week the members looked forward with anticipation to their meetings, hoping each time to perform a trick their friends didn't know and couldn't decipher.

A look through their date book showed that the members of Miss Mayfield's Y-Teens took part in the hanging of the Christmas greens at the YWCA, in a skating party, and in a bake sale. These and other activities took place outside their regular club meetings, which were devoted to the carrying on of programs peculiar to the Y-Teen organization.

There was never a dull moment when this active group assembled. The purpose of the organization, as stated in its creed, is to grow in friendship with people of all races, religions, and nationalities, and to grow in the knowledge and love of God. To carry out this purpose the girls engaged in a full year of projects both civic and social.

At every meeting it was customary to have a short worship service followed by movies on personal appearance and etiquette, games, various kinds of skits, or guest speakers. On occasion, refreshments were served; this tended to increase the friendly fellowship of the group. The Bookshelf was used as a guide for planning programs and as a reference for seeing what Y-Teens throughout the world are doing.

It was decided at the first of the year that the club would help the needy at holiday seasons instead of having parties for themselves. Accordingly, at Halloween they made favors for the children at Camden-Clark Hospital, and at Thanksgiving and Christmas contributed to food baskets. In the spring the club had a most successful car-washing project to raise funds.

A skating party, a square dance, and a Christmas party at the YWCA were among their social activities. Through work and play the members of this club had a well-rounded program of fellowship together.

"We the younger generation are striving now to build a better world. Peace and unity, freedom and brotherhood, these we have set to be our goals." With these words from the "Y-Teen Song" in their hearts and minds, these girls began their club year.

Every club period from September to May was spent in some interesting manner. At the beginning of the year, committees of four each were appointed to be responsible for each week's devotional service and program. Many of the meetings were highlighted by speakers and demonstrations. Through the latter, the girls learned more about hair styles, cosmetics, facial treatment, and clothing.

Among the lighter programs were a silly style show and take-offs of two television shows, "I've Got a Secret" and "This Is Your Life." Also for recreation, numerous parties were enjoyed during the course of the year.

Since Y-Teens are always interested in civic affairs, these girls helped to sell TB bangles, and made a monetary contribution to the Henry Logan Children's Home.

This year, for the first time, members of the different Y-Teens clubs were privileged to visit New York City during the Easter vacation. Their main objective was to attend a conference held in the United Nations Building. They also toured the city, visited the National Y-Teens Headquarters, and participated in the annual Easter Parade.

Each club period in 117 found a group of Y-Teen girls buzzing with the activity which had been prepared by the committee responsible for that particular program. It was the desire of Mrs. Metheny's girls to receive as much instruction as they could on how to be well-groomed and how to attain self-composure. Through direction and demonstrations by authorities on these subjects, the girls learned such phases of good grooming as how to style their hair and how to care for their nails and skin. Their meetings were sometimes shared with other clubs interested in the same problems.

How to do the right thing at the right time is the problem Emily Post 219, under Miss Laughlin's direction, attempted to solve. During the year they had talks and demonstrations by experts on such subjects as cosmetics, hair styling, styles of glasses, and gift wrapping. As a final project, through which they might put some of their instruction into practice, they had a luncheon at one of the local restaurants.

Stitch and Chatter Club 311

Each club period, under the guidance of Miss Pettigrew, a small group of girls worked on embroidered, knitted, or crocheted articles. During the year many attractive and useful objects were made, some of which were displayed later in the showcase. Through this club the girls not only satisfied their desire to create something pleasing to the eye, but also spent an enjoyable hour with their friends.

Fulfilling their club name—to stitch and chatter—these girls, surprisingly, did little chattering and much stitching. Their work included embroidering such articles as pillowcases, scarfs, and pot holders, and crocheting doilies. Their main object was to learn as many different kinds of handwork as possible so that they might make use of them later.

This group of girls, under the sponsorship of Miss Farnsworth, did indeed do fancy work. They spent Thursday club period busily engaged in some form of handiwork, usually embroidery. "Selling" books to their fellow club members occupied the greater part of each club period. Meeting every Thursday, they alternately read and reviewed books. Any club period you would have found Mrs. Welch's boys engrossed in reading many different types of books. Meeting every other week on Wednesday evening, the girls of Entre Nous, an honorary book club, enjoy eating, as well as discussing books. To fulfill part of their pledge: to gain for themselves enjoyment, knowledge, and culture through their reading and create a greater love of books among their friends, the girls, during Book Week, went in pairs to give reviews in all English classes. Weeks before the reviews were to be given, they consulted the teacher they were to visit so that they could review the type of books she might prefer. Further to fulfill their pledge, they give brief reviews for the benefit of their fellow club members so that each girl might become acquainted with more books than she could possibly read herself.

To be eligible for membership a girl must have an interest in reading and must be recommended by her English teacher. After becoming a member, she must attend the meetings and read sixteen books during the year—eight fiction and eight nonfiction.

The purpose of the College Club is to aid its members in the selection of a school that will fill their individual needs. Through a study of college bulletins and films, they gathered information concerning the curriculum and expense—tuition, room, and board—of different colleges. With this valuable information available, they were better qualified to choose wisely the right college.

Senior Future Nurses' Club

This club, through instruction given by Mrs. Charles Friedman, R.N., offered girls interested in becoming nurses, or pursuing other health courses, an opportunity to understand better their future training. Parliamentary procedure is used with prowess from the opening ceremony to the close of the meetings of the Blennerhassett Chapter of the Future Farmers of America.

Each year the chapter competes for state awards. They are judged by how well they attain the various goals in the year's program of activities. For raising funds this year, the boys sold Christmas cards and subscriptions to a farm magazine. They also sponsored the annual Talent Show and sold fire extinguishers as part of a safety program. At a parent and son banquet the boys informed their parents of their work.

A vocational agriculture student is initiated into the organization as a "green hand" in his first year of study, at which time he is required to have at least one home project. His second year he becomes a Chapter Farmer. Then, by achievement, he may advance to State Farmer and American Farmer.

F. F. A. helps its members to practice brotherhood, to honor rural opportunities and responsibilities, to develop leadership qualities, to supervise farm programs, to take an active part in farm bureaus, to further the development of better farming methods, and to encourage the use of more farm machinery.

Activities In Session

Boys and Girls State

Last spring thirty-two boys and girls were chosen to represent our high school at Mountaineer Boys State and Rhododendron Girls State. Being citizens of this "state," they learned how the different phases of our state government are operated, and actually served in the capacities of state and county officials. Being elected to these offices by a regular election, or being appointed by elected officials, helped them realize the vast responsibilities of our government.

Row three: Tom Bee, Gene Smith, Sandra Riddle, Ann Roberts, Joyce Bayer, Myrna Snider, Jean Cofer, Jane Norman, Dorothy Epler, Mary Bash.

To learn more about their chosen profession is the aim of the Future Teachers of America. Meeting twice a month, the first and third Mondays, they devoted much time to increasing their knowledge of the varied fields of the teaching profession. They sent representatives to the regional and state F. T. A. conferences, the latter being held at Jackson's Mill. Their chief social event was the annual spring banquet.

Movie Operators

The members of this club learn to operate the many projectors the school uses. Under the supervision of Mr. Bailey, the boys give demonstrations, each member performing the different steps used in projecting a picture. From this group, the future movie operators for the school are selected, the instruction acquired here being required of those who want to serve as operators.

Juniors and seniors who do the many jobs that instructors do not have time for are indispensable members of the physical education system. Such duties as checking the roll and shower lists, issuing equipment, and officiating at games require boys with a sense of responsibility, and leadership qualities. Some of them become skilled enough to be used as officials in interscholastic games.

Boys' Physical Education Assistants

Main Office Assistants

Row three: Sandra Stebbins, Melinda Johnston, Jane Davis, Carolyn Offutt, Anna Adams, Jane Norman, Phyllis Nohe, Margaret Reed, Ann Stephens, Sharon Anderson, Mary Ann Tuel.

"Parkersburg High School. Just one moment please," might be heard any hour of the school day in the main office. Besides operating the switchboard, the assistants run errands, aid visitors to the school, alphabetize and file cards, and perform other minor clerical duties. Working as a main office assistant provides practical experience and many good times. Dependability and a pleasant personality are important traits an assistant must possess.

Know Your State Club

Learning the counties in the order of their location was first on the agenda. Then, each member gave a report containing statistics and other information pertaining to the history of three counties. After that each one had to learn the county seats, state institutions, state parks and forests, and have a general knowledge of some famous favorite sons. Those who completed the requirements are well-informed about West Virginia.

Attendance Office Assistants

Row one: Betty Yeager, Judy Cumberland, JoAnn Ward, Judy Hughes, Shirley McPherson, Laura Jean Snodgrass, Mary Fortney, Mary Jo Whitehead, Mary Louise Phillips.

Row two: Paula Mason, Linda Jo Reed, Serita Dennis, Oralee Richardson, Doris Barnes, Arlene Finn, Dara Davis, Ruthie Holleron, Carol Padgett, Peggy Miller.

Row three: Norman Simmons, Richard Ferrell, John McGuffey, Larry Hopps, Albert Rule, Marvin Lamp, Bonnie Mathess, Linda Richards, Mary Lou Meyer, Janet Taylor, Sandra Simms.

Busily as beavers the attendance office assistants industriously perform their various tasks. Among their duties are collecting absence slips at the beginning of each period, recording absences, and running errands for Miss Musgrave, who is in charge of this part of the administration. To perform this service thirty students must work an hour each day.

Registrar's Assistants

A group of loyal and competent students serve as assistants to the Director of the Academic Program and the Registrar. Taking pass slips, checking locker records, and recording tardy slips are part of the duties they perform. Each period two or more assistants are on duty to fill requests for information from the pupil program file, and to do whatever their supervisors request.

Row one: Scott Howes, Jerry McCoy, Gene Smith.

Row two: Judy Sayre, Betsy Bell, Ann Johnson, Ruth Ellen Ott, Miss Allen.

Girls' Physical Education Assistants

 Row two: Mary Lou Kester, Janet Humphrey, Joyce Haynes, Janet Montgomery, Jan Sams, Martha Farley, Sheila Carpenter, Barbara Woodcock, Janice Meves, Janet Oliver, Sandra Riddle.
 Row three: Shirley Boggess, Barbara Crawford, Jane Norman, Donna Ayers, Charlotte Oiler, Myrna Snider, Susie Crawford, Caroline Conner, Sharon Sue Keith, Nancy Dell Harris, Lois Elaine Tebay.
 Row four: Anne Stiles, Karen Kintzer, Connie Grass, Jean Oller, Carol Ruf, Sharon Hill, Wilma K. Horner, Nancy Lynn Michael, Jane Rose Marshall.

Mrs. Herdman, Mrs. Bailey, and Miss Rolfe have many student assistants who help them as they work to provide the girls at Parkersburg High School with a physical education program that will aid in building healthy bodies and cultivating sportsmanlike attitudes. Mrs. Herdman and Miss Rolfe usually have two assistants each for each period, and Mrs. Bailey, one.

These girls are selected for their ability and leadership so that they can set an example for the other students. They must read and study different games and must always learn dances and marching routines before the regular classes do so that they may assist the others. This is especially necessary when they are preparing the various parts of the Sports Carnival.

Their routine duties include checking rolls, seeing that girls are dressed properly for gym, taking charge of and referring games, teaching games, dances, and gymnastics, and checking showers for the point system.

Library Assistants' Club

 Row two: Francine Ozols, Senta Marie Wagoner, Pearl Pryor, Joan Dailey, Nancy Atkinson, Sue Cunningham, Dorothy Mae Thompson, Mary Ruth Shirley, Alyce Rae Griffith, Joyce Dinsmore, Miss Lewis.
 Row three: Mary Ellen Dawson, Becky Beckwith, Judith Metz, Linda Lou Enoch, Kathleen Nutter, Jonelle Crooks, Linda Ramey, Elizabeth Gibbs, Shirley Vincent, Betty Grant.
 Row four: Charlene South, Janie Mildren, Betsy Rowe, Martha Treadwell, Nancy Haines, Lynda Riffe, Susie Riggs, Grace Cunningham, Dale Riggelman.

This group of students spend many extra hours in the library. Assisting Miss Lewis, Mrs. Lay, and Mrs. Church, they help keep the library running smoothly from eight o'clock in the morning until an hour after school. Desk work—checking books in and out—shelving the returned books, pulling magazines, and checking the reserve shelf and pass slips constitute a major part of their duties.

The many attractive bulletin boards scattered throughout the library are their responsibility also. They are designed to advertise new books, to create interest in new fields, and to demonstrate the many uses of the library as a source of reference material.

For Book Week the assistants arranged an interesting display of books in the trophy case and presented a radio skit through a local radio station to arouse public interest in books. The book reviews that appear in the Journal are written by these students.

The group operates through committees: shelf checking, book reviewing, display, program, photography, radio, publicity, and historical. Though some club meetings are devoted to programs, usually the time is given over to committee work.

Contributing a valuable service to the school, these students assisted teachers by checking papers, running errands, typing papers of various sorts, cutting stencils, and doing a great many other duties, varying according to each teacher's obligations. Because a competent assistant relieves him of such duties, the teacher is able to devote more time to more important work.

A student must have at least a "C" average, be dependable and efficient, and have a recommendation from his home room teacher before he is eligible to apply for this work. Often the assistants are former pupils of the teacher whom they assist and are selected because of their interest and ability they formerly displayed in the subject.

Infirmary Assistants

A long line of students moves through the infirmary every day with ailments ranging from poison ivy in the spring to colds in the winter. Assisting Mrs. Herdman, these girls apply Band-aids, take temperatures, keep records, and perform other duties for which they are trained. This preview of nursing is valuable for those girls who intend to make it their career.

In such a large institution as Parkersburg High School, monitors are needed to maintain order in the halls. Their duties are to minimize confusion, avert congestion, and eliminate possibilities of accident by regulating traffic. There are two crews of monitors: the noon monitors supervised by Mr. Bailey, and the period and morning monitors under the direction of Miss Musgrave.

School starts early for both teachers and monitors. At eight o'clock in the morning, monitors go on duty at all entrances. Their purpose is to refuse entrance to anybody without special permission to enter the building before the bell rings. If inclement weather threatens the health or welfare of students waiting outside, the monitors allow them to wait in the wings until the bell rings, the boys on the first floor and the girls on the second.

Period monitors go on duty at the beginning of a period and serve until the next period starts. On each floor there is a girl monitor at one end of the corridor and a boy at the other; a head monitor co-ordinates the floors. No boy or girl is to be out of class without a pass slip, which must be checked by the monitor in the vicinity.

Monitors

Row one: Eugene Jackson, Gary Newell, Alfred Spencer, Norman Simmons, Ralph Angus, Helen Mae Thompson, Garnett Phillips, Dorothy Thompson, Sonja Dotson.
 Row two: Martha Meredith, Patricia Moore, Carolyn Cummons, Phyllis Gaston, Shirley Gray, Sue Stevens, Wilma Horner, Mary Jarvis, Janice Canary, Carolyn Rhodes, Barbara Battin, Mr. Bailey.
 Row four: Larry Pratt, Jim George, Ira DeVaughn, Waynuel McCray, Harold Winters, Darrell Harben, Billy Johnson, Gary Enoch, Randall Smith.

Another of their duties is to make sure that all lockers are securely locked. Since visiting lockers between periods is not allowed, students must carry all books for their morning and again for their afternoon classes. The monitor must see that this regulation is not abused. A monitor is also posted at the bicycle shed each period of the day.

At noon, traffic becomes a problem, and noon monitors are on duty to regulate it. They are stationed at doorways and at regular intervals in the halls. There are two shifts of noon monitors, one on duty from 11:37 to 12:05 and the other from 12:05 to 12:30. Noon monitors have captains just as the period monitors have head monitors.

A study room is maintained by monitors in room 221 for the boys and another in the auditorium for the girls. By 12:15 everybody has to be out of the halls, and monitors must enforce this rule. Noon monitors at the doorways then have the same duties as morning monitors.

Head monitors are John Webb, Carolyn Burdette, Pat Moore, Clarence Sayre, Jo Ann Whitlatch, Glenna Shuman, Randall Smith. The captains are Jack Mace, Gary Newell, Harold Winters, Bob Winters.

T-T Art Club

Students interested in art as a hobby or career comprise the members of T-T Art Club. Eligible to tryout, by submitting work to be judged by members of the club, are those who have had one year of art. Meeting each Monday and Thursday during the fourth period, they work on various projects. For the Christmas assemblies they made stained glass windows which gave the stage a cathedral-like atmosphere.

Aspiring to please the eye, the young artists in 204 applied many a deft stroke of the brush to bring perfection to their work. They began the year with pastel drawings and pencil sketches while deciding what they wanted to do. This year they did abstract clay modeling, copper enameling, aluminum etching, basket weaving, and oil painting. In the spring they made posters to publicize school activities.

Craft Club

The members of the Craft Club, who are selected by Mrs. Campbell, work with clay, leather, metal, pastels, water colors, and wood. Because so many different kinds of craft projects may be engaged in, each member of the club can do exactly what pleases him. Some of the students entered contests in which their work received favorable comment. Mrs. Campbell is assisted by Carol Hoffman.

The members of this club constructed footstools, tie racks, gun racks, and cutting boards. With the aid of Mr. Clarke and Fred Staats, student sponsor, the boys completed at least two objects, the requirement for club credit. To interest boys in woodworking and to give them a chance to work with their hands is the purpose of the club.

One of the most active organizations at Parkersburg High School is the Girls' Athletic Association, which offers a variety of activities designed for healthful living.

A number of Play Days, which were held at the Memorial Field House, were among the athletic events of the year. On these days, girls from different schools in the vicinity of Parkersburg met to engage in competitive sports and to learn to play new games.

The highest goal of the girls who participate in the program of the physical education department is to become a member of the G. A. A. The outstanding abilities of approximately thirty-five members of this organization were combined in the annual Sports Carnival, which was the highlight of the year. The precision with which they perform rhythmic gymnastics and their always unusual dances make this group a major attraction of the P. H. S. physical education department.

Through the G. A. A. they attain not only lasting skills, health, and pleasure but also a set of values called "good sportsmanship."

Sophomore Girls' Sports Club

Each week these girls met to play together different types of games, among them basketball, volleyball, and aerial darts. Besides playing games, they enjoyed dancing and making plans for future projects. During the year they co-operated with the G. A. A. to have Play Days for the surrounding area. In the Sports Carnival they played basketball and volleyball against the G. A. A. besides performing other stunts.

When the girls competed with each other, there was an added desire to win because the club was divided into two teams. Points were given for participation in whatever program—games, dances, gymnastics—was underway, for taking showers, and for attending rehearsals that are essential for programs such as they engage in. At the end of the year the losing team had to treat the winning team to a party.

Although winning was important to the girls, they considered the lessons learned in sportsmanship and playing together important, too. One of the chief goals of this group is to become members of the G. A. A.

Gymnastics Club

One of the highly favored features of the Sports Carnival is the performance of the Gymnastics Club. These boys dedicate many hours to the vigorous practice of advanced tumbling. Well equipped, they work out routines on everything from the mats to the flying rings. With their instructor they performed during half time at home basketball games, and among their meets won honors at the Amateur Athletic Meet at Springfield, Ohio.

Boys who like tumbling join this club and soon learn enough to assist the gymnasts in exhibitions. It is the aspiration of most of them to advance to the gymnastics team. The club is composed of two squads: elementary and advanced. The slower boys work on the fundamentals, and as they improve, they join the advanced squad. Their main performance is in the Sports Carnival.

Memorial Field House, room 700, is the meeting place of the Big Red Football Club. For boys on the varsity team, the club is a great help in developing ties of friendship and in building morale. During football season, since the prevailing thought is to win games, meetings are used as strategy sessions to determine how the Big Reds might outplot as well as outplay the teams they meet.

The boys are familiarized with the plays they must learn; scouting reports are used to point out the strength and weakness of the opposition; and the Big Red potential is reviewed from films of past games. Under the guidance of Coach Parsons, the boys profit by what they learn at these sessions.

After the season is over, the Little Red Club joins them, and the time is spent gaining a better understanding of how football should be played. For this purpose movies are shown at most meetings. Although club sessions are not as intense as during the season, the knowledge the players gain will be of value to them next year for many will return to be valuable players on the next season's team.

Big Red Basketball Club

When the bell rings and clubs come into session, Coach Mandich's blackboard is soon filled with diagrams of basketball maneuvers. Club period is the time when the Big Reds hear scouting reports and plan their strategy for the coming games. This is the only time other than practice when most of the team are together, and they can "talk" the game. The opposition needs plenty of luck when the Big Reds run onto the floor with their bag of tricks.

The goal of these boys is to secure a knowledge of the fundamentals of football. To be a member, a boy must play on the freshman football squad. Most of the instruction is given by chalk rather than actual practice sessions on the field. During football season, they discuss their latest game and size up their next opponent's defensive and offensive plays. According to the season, they study the techniques of basketball, track, and baseball.

Little Red Football Club

The Little Red Football Club usually spend their time in skull practice, for their major purpose is to learn the plays of the game. All the plays and series the team uses must be learned thoroughly by each player and mentally filed for spot identification. Films from the library of the athletic department greatly aid them, for by watching previous performances they can learn where changes should be made.

The Little Red Basketball Club is for boys who are on the Little Red Team. Their activity time is used to learn strategy for the hardwood. For every boy to be in the right place at the right time is of great importance in a game, and Coach Sayre sets everybody straight in regard to the positions and plays when he uses his diagrams and explanations. A year in this club prepares boys for next year's Big Reds.

The Sophomore Boys' Choir, directed by Mrs. Sayre, provides diversion from the regular day's activity and affords the members an opportunity to satisfy their desire to sing.

Their chief appearance was in the Music Festival, for which they spent many hours in preparation. Besides this public appearance, several of the choir joined some girls from the Sophomore Girls' Chorus to present an assembly program. As the Parhischan goes to press, they are considering taking part in the Holy Week services.

The group likes to sing just for their own enjoyment, with no thought of planning a program. Among their favorite songs are "Tell Me Why," "Joshua," "With a Voice of Singing," and "God Ever Glorious." While singing just for pleasure, however, they gain practice in group singing.

When one talks to Vivace members, he finds the club is made up of junior and senior boys enthusiastically devoted to singing. Though a large per cent of the membership are boys from A Cappella Choir, many who have had no training are admitted too, just because they like to sing.

The president emphasizes the fact that here boys learn the way to sing. Mrs. Cunningham often selects a particularly able quartet or octet from the group to sing a new song so that those who cannot read music as well as those who have had voice training may learn the selection more easily.

Through Vivace, boys who were not accepted for A Cappella this year keep in training anticipating trying out again next year.

The boys make few public appearances, this year appearing only in the Music Festival, in which they sang "With a Voice of Singing" and the ensemble music given by the Festival Chorus.

Among the songs they have learned and enjoy singing are "Brother Will," "Brother John," "Tell Me Why," "Psalm 150," and the festival number. The officers emphasize the fact that the selections are chosen to appeal to the members, and for that reason make singing enjoyable and relaxing.

The Freshman Girls' Glee Club, made up of a group of girls, most of whom are new in our school this year, participated in several events during the year. Their first appearance was made at the freshman Thanksgiving assembly. Later, with the Freshman Choir, they gave a program at the freshman Christmas assembly.

For the next few months they devoted their energy to practicing the songs to be sung in the annual Music Festival, March 1. When this date finally rolled around, they received many compliments on their fine performance. Besides practicing their own numbers for the Festival, they also rehearsed the numbers they gave with the Festival Chorus.

Their last appearance of the year was their assembly program, which also was for the freshmen. This program showed the versatility of the group, as a variety of songs were presented.

For most of the girls, this club is just the beginning of their participation in musical organizations at P. H. S., as the goal of many is to become members of A Cappella Choir, the most advanced musical group, made up of outstanding vocal students. The enthusiasm with which audiences have received their performances would make it seem that many will be able to achieve their goal.

Prior to this year there has been only one musical group made up of both boys and girls, but last fall another, the Freshman Choir, was organized to replace the Boys' Choir, which went out of existence when our school became a four, rather than six, year school. Under the direction of Miss Lorene Allen, this group has been molded into an excellent musical organization. Membership was acquired through try-outs. Of those who sought membership, it was possible to use only one hundred and twelve.

The choir sang for both the Thanksgiving and Christmas sophomore assemblies as well as for the Easter assembly. In May they presented a complete program, also during an assembly period. During Holy Week, they assisted with the music for the services which are held each day before school, from eight until eight-thirty. At the Music Festival they were part of the Festival Chorus.

Blending their voices harmoniously in song, the members of the Sophomore Girls' Chorus enjoyed a common interest—singing. They worked hard every Friday during the fourth period and often scheduled other practices during fourth periods and after school in order to prepare for performances.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Sayre, they participated in the Fifth Annual Music Festival. The combined voices of the Marcato Glee Club and the Sophomore Girls' Chorus were raised in the singing of "Hear My Prayer," and "Hi, Ho, Nobody Home."

On April 10, these girls presented a program for the members of the sophomore class. This assembly consisted of a variety of talent acts performed by members of the chorus, plus several chorus numbers.

Row three: Sandra Simmons, Linda Rae Rardon, Mary Neal, Karen Kintzer, Betty Ann Richardson, Kay Hopkins, Carol Ruf, Jamie Oller, Betty Kay Boso, Sharon Rose Cain, Nancy Ann Thorne, Alyce Rae Griffith, Anne Davis, Pat Thrash, Lois Ward, Sue Phillips, Janet Deem.

As a special project in the fall, they entered a float in the Homecoming Parade. Also, during the course of the year, several of the smaller groups within the chorus, such as trios and quartets, performed before various organizations.

In order to join this chorus, it is necessary to have a good singing voice, a willingness to spend much time in careful study of songs and practice, and to enjoy music. The girls in this ensemble have the opportunity to meet and make new friends who, like themselves, have an interest in music. Whenever or wherever they appear, it is possible to distinguish them from any other choral group by their pastel sweaters and dark skirts.

Marcato Glee Club provides an opportunity for all junior and senior girls who do not have a chance to participate in other musical organizations to satisfy their desire to sing.

These girls meet on Thursday fourth period to enjoy singing together and an hour of enjoyment free from study and classwork. Composed of approximately one hundred girls, the club combined its efforts with the Sophomore Chorus to present a most pleasing performance at the Music Festival. They also took part in the Festival Chorus.

The girls spent a great deal of time preparing a program they gave for the juniors and seniors on February 21. The production, including variety numbers as well as selections by the entire group, was received with enthusiasm.

An entirely non-musical project of the club was the building of a float for the Homecoming Parade in October. This attractive float, displaying a modern theme, showed that much time and effort had been spent on it.

The members of this organization have an opportunity to further their appreciation of music through the many kinds of songs they sing. Like the other musical groups, Marcato provides an opportunity for those who enjoy singing to sing the kind of songs they like.

The highest goal of music students at Parkersburg High School is to become members of A Cappella Choir, which is composed of junior and senior boys and girls who have had a year of voice and have satisfactorily passed other rigid requirements. The outstanding work of this choir produces an almost endless variety of musical enjoyment. Their music was made available to many through the appearances they made both at school and before a number of organizations.

Their first appearance was at Thanksgiving time, when they provided the musical part of the junior-senior assembly program. Their next performance was with the P. H. S. Revue.

Though the revue, this year labeled "Sho Krazee," includes members from the other music groups, the choir members form the core. This year Bill Fields was master of ceremonies and the six funsters were Bill McPherson, Jim Burdette, Dick Kiser, Bob Wamsley, Mike Locke, and Denver Collins.

Between special practices for the revue, the choir rehearsed the music they used for their annual Christmas assembly and concert, the latter presented for the public, and considered one of the city's choicest Christmas celebrations. During the Christmas season they also gave a concert at the Chancellor Hotel.

With the other musical organizations they gave the Fifth Annual Music Festival. This year there were two performances, one in the afternoon and the other at night.

A group selected from the choir, the All-State Chorus, went to Morgantown April 10-12, where, with music students from other West Virginia schools, they presented a program. This group of the choir, rather than the entire organization, sang the special numbers for the junior-senior Easter assembly. The choir's last appearances for the year came at the end of school when they sang for the Senior Class Sermon and Commencement.

One of our oldest established organizations is the Parkersburg High School Orchestra, which has the reputation of being the finest in the state.

Membership is based upon ability rather than experience though experience gained through membership in a junior orchestra can be helpful.

The function of the orchestra is to train the students in music and prepare them to enjoy to the fullest extent the relaxation and stimulation that can be derived from it. It is hoped that these young people will use their training for active participation in adult musical groups.

In the active repertoire for this season the members of the orchestra have run the gamut of emotional experiences from the early masters, such as Sammartini's "D Major Symphony," through the romanticists represented by Tschai-kowsky's "Romeo and Juliet" and the modern Felix Borowski's "Adoration." It is the purpose and desire that players in the orchestra have the aesthetic experience of a rich musical background.

Among their popular novelty numbers are "Plink, Plank, Plunk," "The Syncopated Clock," and "Chopsticks," which, though novelties, require precision training and as much musical finesse as some selections by the masters.

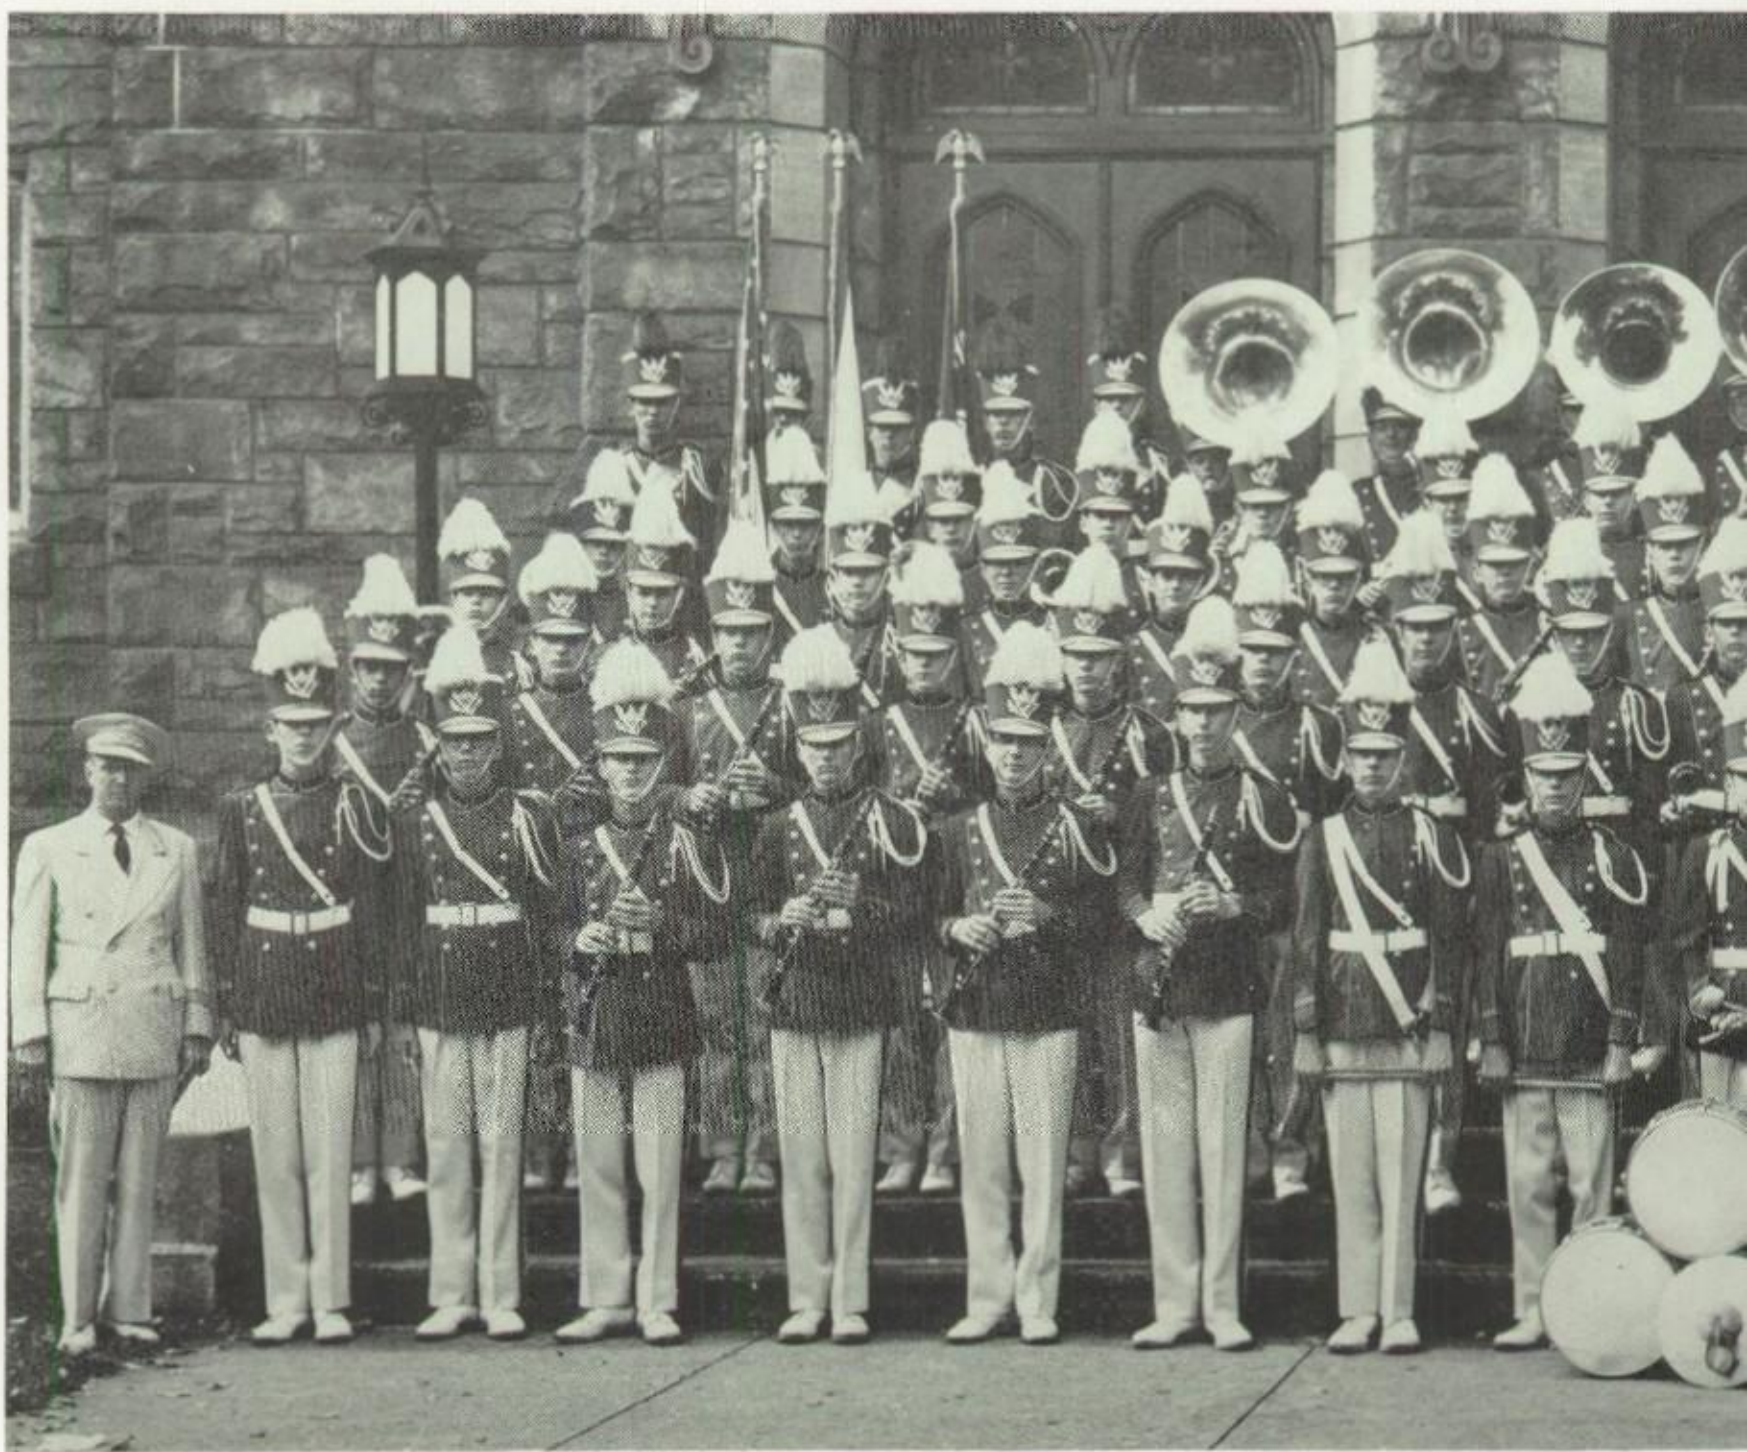

The orchestra's feeling is that it wants to be of service to the entire community in supplying music to all. This is evidenced by the great number of times soloists from the group have played for organizations and the time the full orchestra played for the D. A. R. meeting featuring Paul Harvey.

Those students who have been members of the All-State Orchestra have several times been awarded all the first and most of the second chairs in the string positions.

The Big Red Band honored Parkersburg High School for the second consecutive time by winning the title of National Champion Junior Band of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Through the efforts of the local V. F. W., our band was sent to Dallas, Texas, during the summer of 1956 to defend the national championship they had been awarded in the summer of 1955 at Boston.

The band has performed for civic groups during the year, besides adding color and zest to various parades. They have also entertained their fellow students and townspeople with concerts, excelling on the stage as well as on the field and street. They, too, participated in the Music Festival.

Seeing the Big Red Band as it goes through its drills gives Parkersburgers a feeling of great pride, for the band presents itself as a smart, dignified, and stately marching unit. Watching the band perform on the field at football games, one realizes that these military marchers, lead by the color guard and five drum majors, are a drawing card.

Spring, summer, fall, and winter find these boys constantly striving to perfect their marching, maneuvers, and music. We believe, however, that the boys do not feel that the long hours of practicing and memorizing music, and drilling are too much drudgery because they are always eager to please their audiences.

Drum Majors

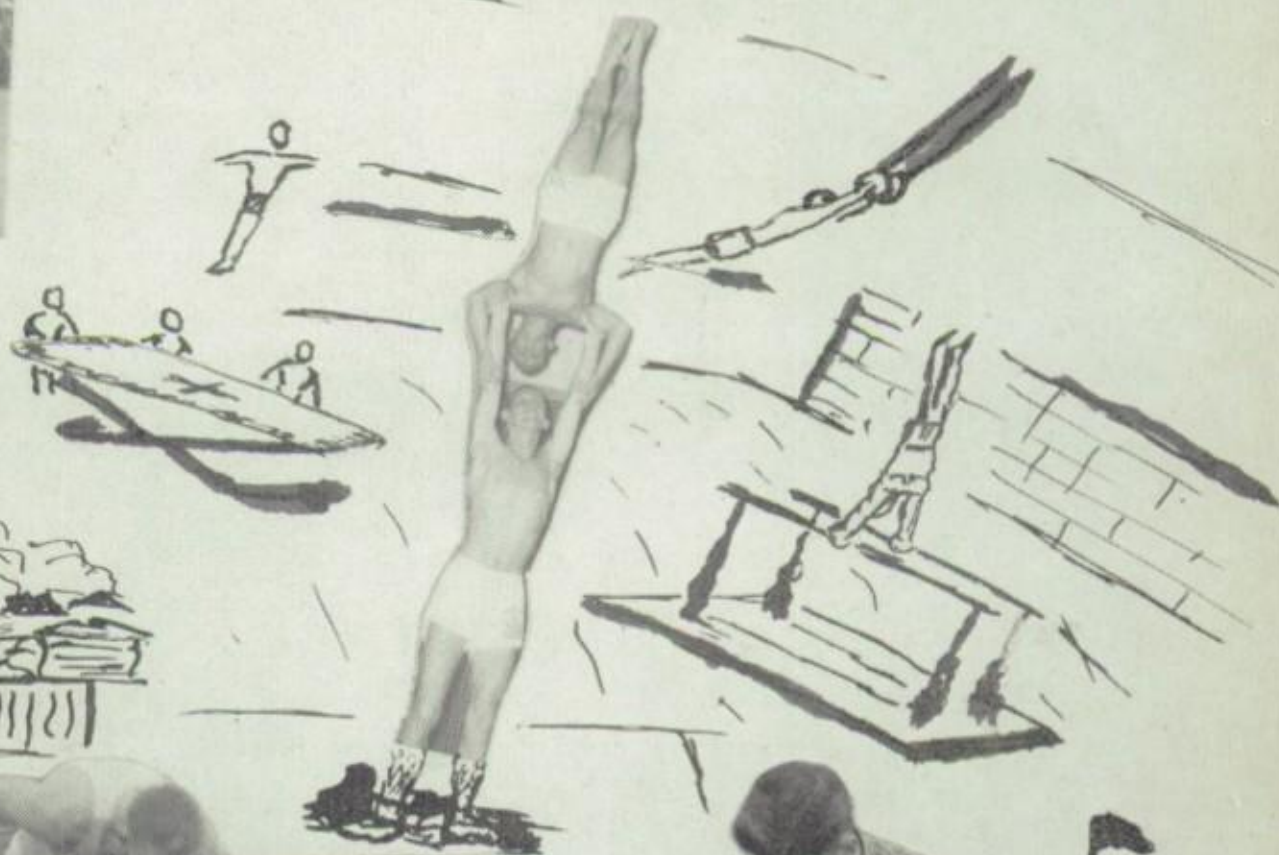

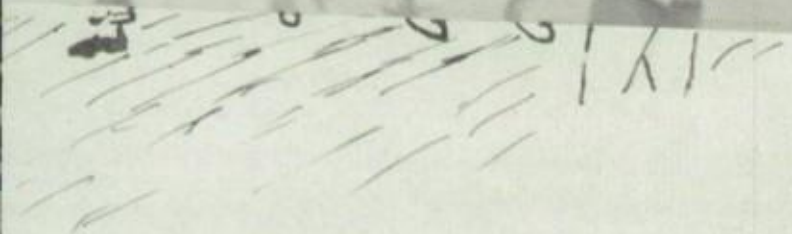

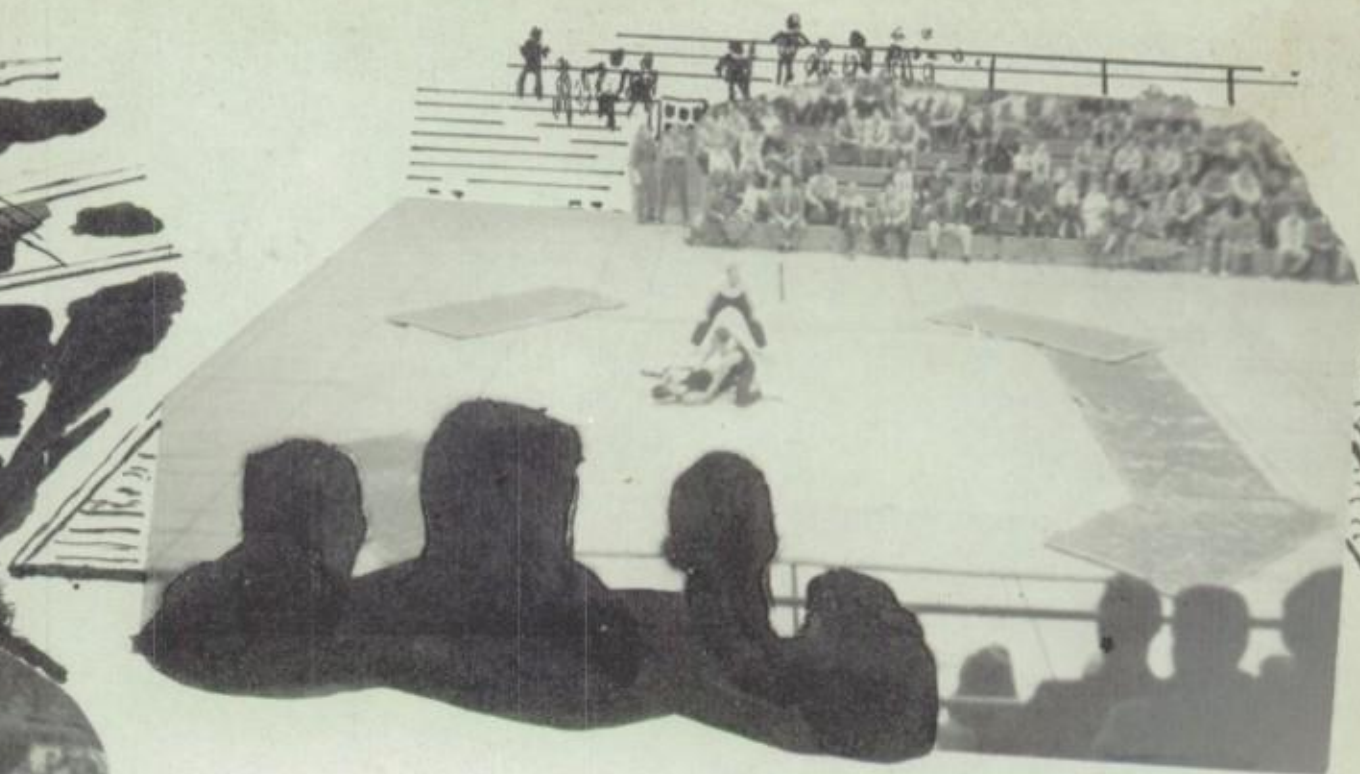

Adding color and precision to the band are the five drum majors, who are indispensable because of the timing and sense of direction they provide. Their high stepping maneuvers are an added attraction to the ever popular Big Red Band.

Big Red Football

The outlook for the 1956 Football Season was encouraging when a number of last year's outstanding juniors appeared for practice. Under the direction of Coach Russ Parsons, the most recent addition to our athletic department, they were whipped into a team that turned in a very good record, losing only three of their ten games. By the end of the season they were one of the top teams in the state. In fact, following the Huntington East game, some polls named them the number one team in the state.

SEPTEMBER 7, SPENCER

The first Friday of our school year found the Big Reds playing Spencer on our home field. Parkersburg led 13 to 0 at the end of the first quarter, and by half-time had raised the score to 40 to 0.

When play resumed, the Big Reds immediately ran the ball over the goal making the first of the two touchdowns tallied in the third quarter. In the fourth, the P. H. S. boys again made two touchdowns, but in the latter part of the quarter, Spencer managed to get the ball past the Big Reds, making the final score 67 to 6 in favor of Parkersburg.

SEPTEMBER 14, WHEELING

The second week of school, Parkersburg met the Wheeling Wildcats at Wheeling, where their experienced backfield shuttled the ball past our inexperienced team for a score of 19 to 6. We tried, but fast slashes off tackle on both sides of the line constantly enabled the Wildcats to move the ball over the Big Red goal line.

Wheeling led 12 to 0 at half-time, but we were as close as the ten yard line in both the first and second quarters. Fumbles prevented our scoring.

In the third quarter the first time we got the ball we made a touchdown and were very much in the game at 12 to 6. We kicked off to Wheeling and stopped them quickly. They then kicked out and we went for four first downs, moving well down to their thirty yard line. On the first down we fumbled away our chance to win, although we did start another drive in the fourth quarter. Again we fumbled to set up the final score, 19 to 6 in favor of Wheeling.

SEPTEMBER 21, MARIETTA

Under ideal weather conditions, Marietta arrived at Stadium Field to be our third opponent for 1956. With a team said to be the strongest in her history, Marietta held first place all through the first three quarters.

Then, with the score 12 to 0 and only five minutes left in the fourth quarter, the Big Reds took the Tigers' kickoff and ran it back up the field 99 yards for a touchdown. They were trailing 6 to 12 with one minute and thirty seconds to play.

Marietta received the Big Red kickoff and was trying to hold the ball until the game was over, but Paul Hoblitzell grabbed a fumbled ball from the Marietta quarterback and raced 55 yards to tie the score. Paul Adams then kicked the extra point to win the game for P. H. S. 13 to 12.

SEPTEMBER 25, TRIADELPHIA

The Big Reds met Triadelphia here to play a game that turned out to be one of the biggest of the season, for Triadelphia lost only two games all year. In the first half, the Big Reds piled up a score of 19 to 6.

In the first few minutes of the second half Triadelphia threatened when they scored six points to make the score 19 to 12. Then the Big Reds recovered a fumble and sealed up the score with a pass from Coulter to Bargeloh, who then went all the way for a touchdown. The game was then a seesaw back and forth until the final horn, making the tally 25 to 12 in favor of the Big Reds.

OCTOBER 5, WASHINGTON-IRVING

The Big Red - Washington-Irving game, played at Parkersburg, was a series of nerve-wracking fumbles. Between the Big Reds and W.-I. a total of twelve fumbles was compiled. Nevertheless, the hard playing Big Reds had a better record in both running and pass plays and first downs than their opponents.

At the beginning of the fourth quarter, the score was tied 13 all, and during the first four minutes it seemed as if the game might end that way. Then the Big Reds received a punt and started a drive for the Washington-Irving goal. Sticking to a tight "T" formation, the Big Reds forced their way up the field to the Clarksburg eight yard line. Here Coulter made a first down on the two yard line. With a minute to go, he tried a sneak play for a touchdown, but was buried for no gain.

BIG RED FOOTBALL

Obviously anticipating another sneak play, W.-I. played their line tight around center. Then, instead of taking it himself, Coulter handed the ball to Bargeloh, who smashed through the Washington-Irving line and over for the winning tally. We missed the extra point, and the final score was Big Reds 19, W.-I. 13.

OCTOBER 12, HUNTINGTON

Holding a three game winning streak, the Big Reds met Huntington Central at Stadium Field. The first touchdown was made by the Parkersburg High team, but the Pony Express backs immediately made three touchdowns in succession, ending the first quarter 20 to 7 in favor of the Express.

In the second quarter, Huntington made two touchdowns. The first was made on a quarterback sneak and the second, on a fumble. The Huntington team then took the ball and passed 24 yards to Mylar, who ran all the way for a touchdown. At the end of the half the score stood 33 to 7 in favor of Huntington.

The third quarter was entirely taken up by two long touchdown drives. In the first drive, Huntington went all the way on two running plays and scored on a 36 yard pass to Mylar. The second was, however, not completed. The Big Reds then scored by a pass to Owens from Coulter. In the last quarter the Big Reds picked up, and scored again on the kickoff. This was the final touchdown of the game making the score 40 to 20 in favor of the Pony Express.

OCTOBER 20, CHARLESTON

When the Big Reds played Charleston at Laidley Field, Coach Parsons sat on the unfamiliar visitors' side of the field. The Big Reds scored on the opening kickoff, but the ball was called back. This seemed to set the tempo for us. During the first and second quarters, the Red and White remained scoreless while Charleston scored after a fifteen yard penalty from approximately seven yards out. By the half the score was 14 to 0.

Neither team scored in the third quarter, and the fourth quarter was uneventful until the last five minutes. Then Charleston scored, and it seemed as if they would defeat us completely, but on a pass from Coulter to Pfalzgraf, we scored a touchdown.

With less than a minute to play, Charleston scored their last touchdown when Clark, their quarterback, ran 60 yards on a keep play. We dropped three passes in this game that should have gone for touchdowns making the final score 6 to 20 in favor of Charleston.

OCTOBER 26, STONEWALL JACKSON

This year, approximately four thousand fans attended the Homecoming Game at Stadium Field to watch, through rain and sleet, the Big Reds defeat the Generals of Stonewall Jackson. The Big Reds took advantage of the Generals' fumbles, and intercepted many passes.

Though they scored thirteen points the first quarter, six the second, and seven the third, the most exciting quarter was the fourth. To get it off to a good start, Lineman Goff retrieved one of the Generals' passes and ran from the 15 yard line to make the first score of the quarter. The extra point was good.

Sports Helpers

The Sports Helpers perform a valuable and necessary service for the school. During football season, come rain or come shine, they collect tickets at the several entrances to Stadium Field, and during basketball season they collect tickets at the four doors of Memorial Field House. Ordinarily this service is performed by senior girls only, but this year the group expanded to include some junior girls also.

The next score came when Pflazgraf, who was ten yards in front of the Stonewall defenders, received a pass from Coulter. He ran across for the second Big Red touchdown of the quarter. In the final seconds of the game, George Nedeff charged across from the six yard line to add another six points to the score. The twenty points scored in the final quarter made the final score 40 to 15 in favor of the Big Reds.

This game showed how much stronger we were at the end of the year. Stonewall and Huntington High tied at 7 to 7, and Huntington had beat us 40 to 20. We were among the top five teams in the state by now, and improving fast.

NOVEMBER 3, HUNTINGTON EAST

When the Big Reds met the Highlanders of Huntington East High School in Huntington, it seemed defeat was certain, for the Big Reds were trailing 14 to 13 just two minutes before the final horn.

Then the Big Reds held the Highlanders for downs and took over the ball, starting a march up the field. With less than one minute to play, Coulter handed the ball to Bargeloh, who went 17 yards for the winning touchdown. The final score was Big Reds 19, Highlanders 14.

This was the top victory of the season, for East was the number one team in the state and favored for the state championship.

NOVEMBER 9, WEIRTON

Again playing away from home, the Big Reds met Weirton, closing out a successful season with seven wins and three losses.

In the first quarter, Parkersburg won the toss and elected to receive. They promptly proceeded to drive 74 yards for a touchdown. Weirton then tied the game near the end of the quarter, both teams having failed to make their extra point. The second quarter was taken over by Weirton when they made one touchdown and held the Big Reds scoreless. At half-time the score was Weirton 12, Parkersburg 6.

In the third quarter the Big Reds compelled Weirton to punt, but were then forced into a punting position themselves. It was the fourth down with six yards to go when Paxton snapped a trick pass to Bargeloh. Instead of punting, Bargeloh ran twenty-seven yards before being downed on the sixth. He added five more yards in the next two plays, and Coulter then went over to make the touchdown. A pass from Coulter to Pfalzgraf was good for the extra point, and the Big Reds led 19 to 12.

In the fourth quarter Corbitt recovered on the Parkersburg 32, and the Big Reds moved toward the Weirton goal in an eight play running attack. On the last play of the game the Big Reds again went over for a touchdown. This time Bargeloh was the carrier. The game ended 26 to 12 in favor of Parkersburg.

This third win in a row over strong opposition proved the strength of the team at the end of the season.

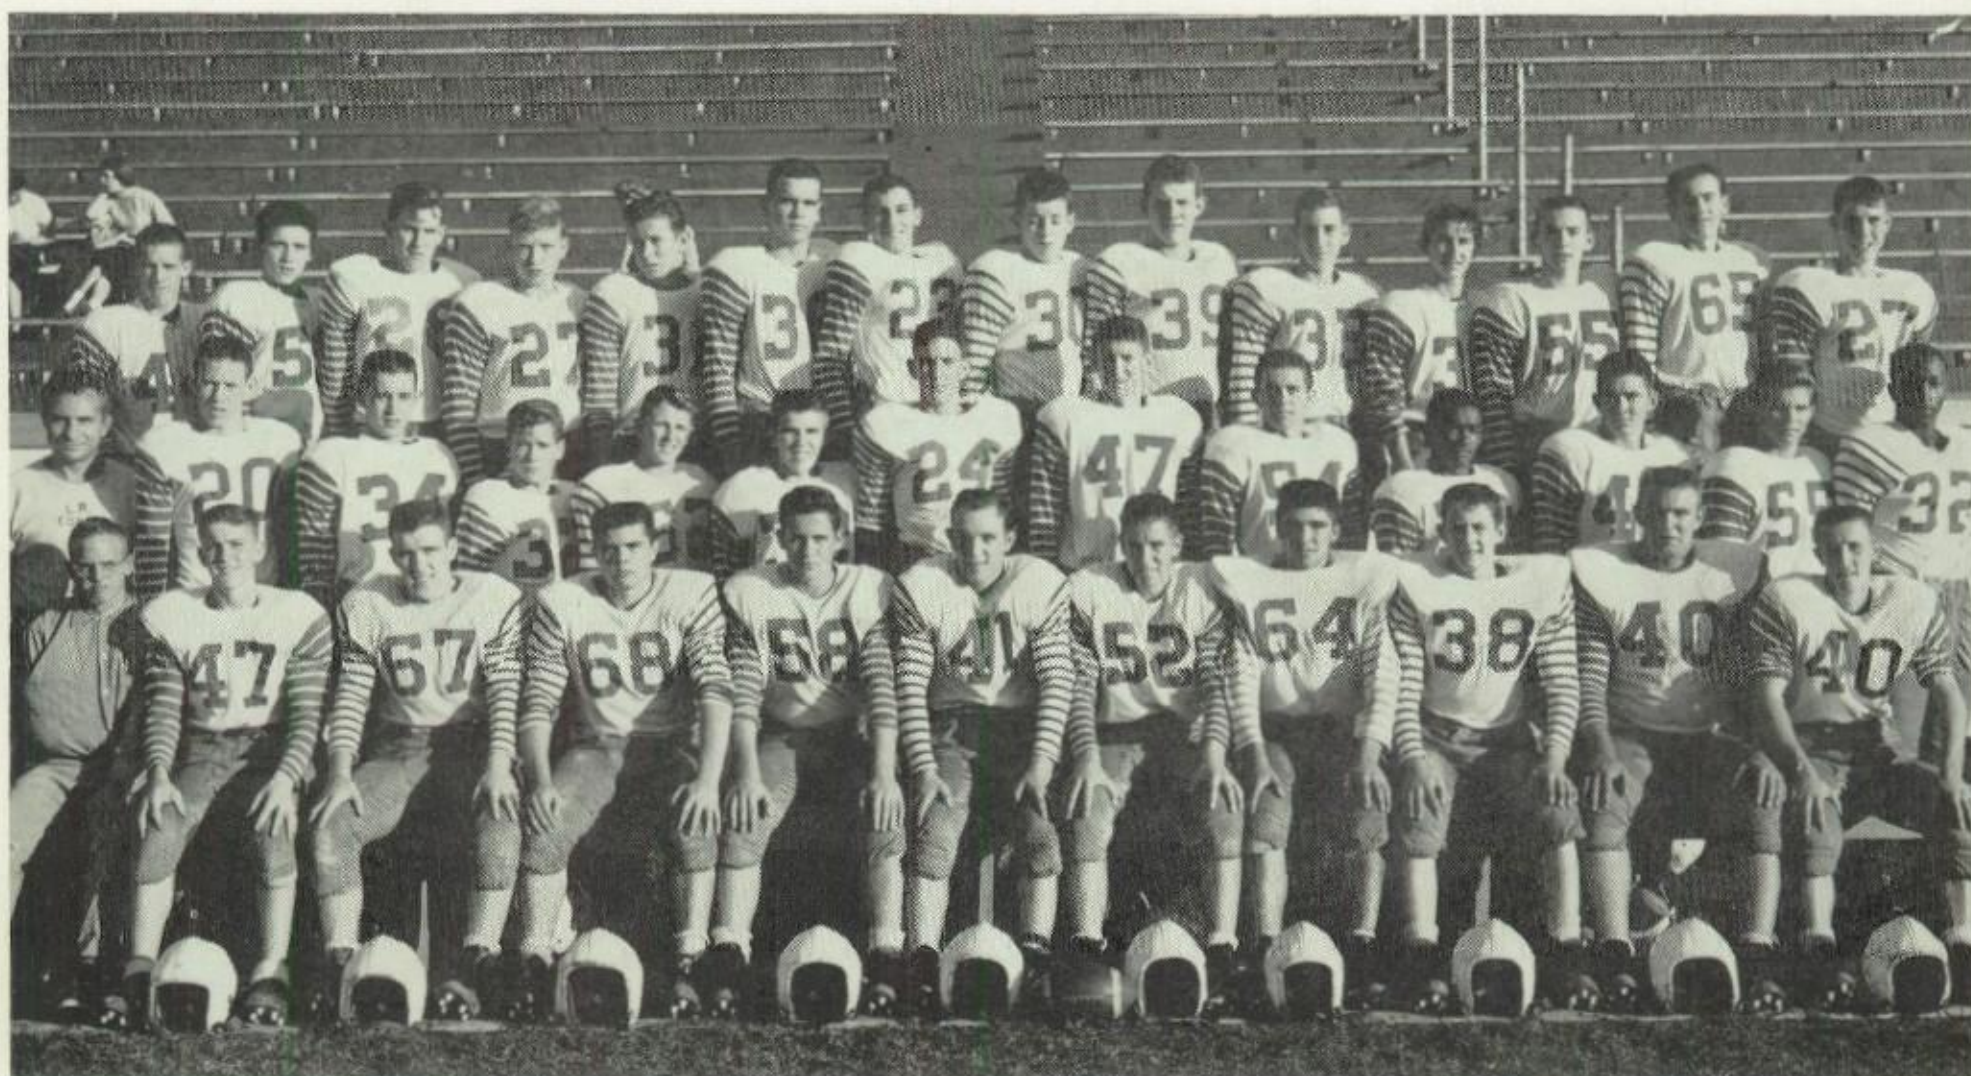

Cheerleaders

Much of the enthusiasm at this year's games was aroused through the efforts of our ever-faithful cheerleaders.

The Little Reds slammed into their 1956 football season by defeating The Plains, MacArthur, and Athens Reserves in rapid succession. The other two games of their five game schedule were not as successful from a winning standpoint as they were from an educational one.

The swift attack of the opposing teams taught the Little Reds more about defense than they could have learned from the coach's blackboard. This brings us to an all important point. In Little Red Football it is not the victories or defeats that count; it is the experience and knowledge gained regardless of the score. Boys who play Little Red Football often go on to play with the Big Reds, where their knowledge and experience stand them in good stead when the score is what makes the difference.

We are proud that the Little Reds have turned in a good record this year, and we sincerely hope that the Big Reds profit through their experiences.

September	14	Little Reds	26	The Plains	6
October	5	Little Reds	30	MacArthur	14

Freshman Football

The purpose of the Freshman Football Team is to promote interest among the boys to play football later in school. Coach Price was short handed for players this year owing to a rather small turnout of boys, and because some who would logically have been on the freshman team played with the Little Reds.

Coach Thorpe capitalized on teaching the boys the basic plays and fundamentals. Many teaching sessions, combined with actual practice on the field, prepared the boys for future usefulness on the Little Red and Big Red teams.

Coach Price hopes that interest in freshman football will pick up next season so that more games can be won and more boys can be prepared for the more advanced teams. One of the things stressed by Coach Price is good sportsmanship, whether the teams lose or win. There is an art to winning graciously as there is to losing magnanimously.

The Freshman Team tied two games, Marietta and Belpre, but lost four. Their schedule included games with Belpre, Ben Franklin, and Marietta.

"Get your concession stand tickets here. May I help you please? We have cokes, popcorn, candy, and potato chips, but no chewing gum." Thus reply those members of the senior class who are posted at the different concession stands to sell refreshments. Frequently, funny incidents and accidents occur, especially during half-time.

The stands are located in Stadium Field and the Memorial Field House to keep Big Red fans from dying of thirst or hunger during athletic events. They are operated only through the football and basketball seasons. The profit from the stands is the only source of revenue the senior class has other than that derived from the class play, which is not until late spring.

From warm nights in the fall until rainy evenings of early spring, the workers faithfully perform their duties. Though the work is tiring, they do profit, for through this service to their class they earn their yearbook cut free.

Intramural Council

Row one: Darrell Huffman, Dick McClain, Russ Butcher, K. Kuhn, Russ Hunt, James Carpenter.
 Row two: Paul Kellison, Terry Holmes, Harry Deems, Dean McKay, Roy Kunsman, Ronald Null, Dan VanCamp, Peyton Dudley, Jim Eckels.
 Row three: Henry Morrison, Park McClung, Neil Knox, Gene Hutton, Clayton Sallee, Herbert Lenox, Carl Surface, George Thornburg, Woodrow Roush, Mr. Rhodes.

In a crowded room, the matches are planned that make our intramural sports program so successful. A conference is held every week in the intramural office with Coach Rhodes, director of the program, holding the chair. Here talk runs on scheduling, rules, and other sports matters. Each home room is represented by a manager, who is elected by his room to conduct their participation in intramurals. He is an important man because he must understand sports well and give each boy a chance to participate, while directing his room's efforts toward the championship.

The detailed business of the system is carried out by five school managers: senior manager, Dean McKay of 232; junior managers, Fred Wilson of 331 and Ben Eaton of 221; and sophomore managers, George Smith and John Lamp of 317A.

The intramural program is highly competitive for home room, both group and individual, championships. To the home room chalking up the highest total of points for the year goes the "old oaken bucket" with the number of the room engraved on a plate.

A full program of sports gives everybody an even chance. Basketball, volley ball, wrestling, tug of war, badminton, free throw, rope climb, and ping pong finals are played off in the Sports Carnival. Football, softball, track, bowling, shuffleboard, table shuffleboard, handball, horseshoes, fungoe hitting, and gymnastics round out the list.

Home room 310 is the only room to have received the bucket two years in succession. Three wins gave 212 the greatest number of successes. Room 232 may have as many successes by winning this year. Last year 503 won with 1021 points. Howard Null is now leading with individual honors. Bob McCutcheon won last year with 125 points.

BIG REDS VS. NEW MARTINSVILLE DECEMBER 14

In the first game of the season the Big Reds defeated New Martinsville 69 to 57. Dave Coulter led off in the scoring to make three field goals and two foul shots, which placed Parkersburg in the lead. The Mandich-men constantly outplayed and outscored the Magnolia five, never relinquishing their early lead. At the end of three action packed quarters, the Big Reds held a commanding advantage of 20 points, the score being 58 to 38. Going into the fourth quarter Walters scored twice, Coulter once, and Bartlett once to advance the Big Red lead to 28 points. In the last few minutes of play Magnolia began to score, but the dominating 28 point gap was too much to overcome. The game ended with the Big Reds still holding a 12 point lead at 69 to 57.

BIG REDS VS. WASHINGTON IRVING DECEMBER 18

During the game with the Hilltoppers both the first and second string saw plenty of action. Coach Mandich removed both Fields and Coulter from the game in the first of the third quarter after they each had made two personal fouls. Before they were taken out, Fields scored 9 points and Coulter racked up 17. In the first quarter, W.I. pulled out to an early lead, 14 to 8, then Dave Coulter made two quick baskets. On Coulter's third basket, the Hilltoppers star player and captain, Tom Hutson, suffered a knee injury and retired from the game. The Big Reds then drew ahead to end the first half 38 to 37. After the half the Big Reds rapidly piled up a ten point lead 53 to 43. Going into the fourth quarter, the score was 60-51 and the Big Reds wrapped up the game at 80 to 68.

BIG REDS VS. ALUMNI DECEMBER 21

In the first quarter, the Big Red sharp shooters picked up a 17 to 7 lead over the Alumni. At the half the score was 35 to 26 with the Alumni barely holding their own. In the third, the Alumni switched to a man to man defense which cost them a total of 28 points. The game ended with the red and white soundly trouncing the Alumni 80 to 55.

BIG REDS VS. ROOSEVELT-WILSON DECEMBER 28

When the Big Reds went to Clarksburg to meet the Presidents, they emerged victorious 85-49. At the first of the game, it was obvious that Fields and Coulter were going to be high scorers for the game. Fields made 24 points and Coulter made 22 during the game. The Big Reds had an impressive lead at halftime, 41-15 and then coasted the rest of the way on their lead, ending the game 85-49.

BIG REDS VS. ST. MARYS JANUARY 4

The St. Marys game began with the Big Reds quickly taking the lead. It can only be described as a landslide with every Parkersburg player, including most of the reserves, contributing to the grand total. In this game, the Big Reds' full court press and blazing fast break paid off to its best advantage, not only disorganizing but also demoralizing the bewildered St. Marys Blue Devils. All of the Big Reds first string got into the double-figures, making the final score the highest of the season, 128 to 48.

Big Red Basketball

BIG REDS VS. MARIETTA

JANUARY 5

The Big Reds played the best basketball in the first quarter before the fouling began. Marietta had 34 personal fouls to our 23. They outscored us by one basket in field goals, but we won the game on foul shots. Fields and Walters were outstanding under the basket, but Alexander and Ambrose gave an excellent account of themselves in controlling the backboards. In the first half, Fields made five of his six field goals. The rest of the game he was closely guarded although he got several free shots. The first quarter ended 18 to 9 our favor. The second quarter saw the Big Reds steadily pulling away to end the half 35 to 22. The third quarter was the fastest of the game. The Big Reds netted 20 to Marietta's 16. The first six minutes of the fourth quarter were tense with both teams tied with 14 points each. At this time, Marietta made eight points to lead the game. They also fouled the Big Reds incessantly, enabling us to win on fouls. The game ended with the Big Reds 71, Marietta 62.

BIG REDS VS. SPENCER

JANUARY 10

The Spencer Yellow Jackets played a very good game against the Big Reds until late in the third quarter. In the first half the score seesawed back and fourth. At first we were ahead by 11 points and then the Yellow Jackets narrowed it down to 7. In the latter part of the third quarter, the Reds made 7 quick baskets to permanently take the lead from Spencer. From then on, it was easy going and the Big Reds swamped their opposition 80 to 50.

BIG REDS VS. STONEWALL JACKSON

JANUARY 11

The Big Reds played a nip and tuck game with Stonewall all the way. First, we led and then they led. The scores by quarters ran: first, 17-14; second, 39-37; third, 53-58. In the third, we managed to blow a 10 point lead and things were looking rather dark for the Big Reds. The scoring was tied on through the fourth period until the very end when Eddy and Coulter scored, and Walters tied it with a foul shot. Walters then got the ball and laid it in the basket to win the game 78 to 76.

BIG REDS VS. ST. MARYS

JANUARY 18

The Big Reds were really hitting when they played St. Marys. The starting lineup was withdrawn after playing about three minutes in the first quarter and again after about three minutes of the last half. The Big Red Reserves played all the rest of the game, winning by a score of 117 to 50. Our scoring was consistent throughout the game with 32 points in the first quarter, 24 in the second, 32 again in the third, and 29 points in the last. The reserves had unusual luck in stealing the ball and on a number of occasions converted the steals into baskets.

BIG RED VS. ROOSEVELT-WILSON

JANUARY 22

The game with Roosevelt-Wilson was assured in the first quarter when the Big Reds scored 24 to the opposition's 9. In the second quarter, the Generals went into a stall with one player holding the ball for almost two minutes. The Big Reds scoring and foul-shooting was sub par, but the Generals just couldn't find the basket. At first, the Big Reds played a close zone defense while the Generals played control ball, making the game less exciting. Coach Mandich finally, in order to spare the fans, motioned the Big Reds out of the zone defense to give R. W. a chance to liven up the game, but the Big Reds still won it easily 66 to 37.

BIG REDS VS. WEIRTON

JANUARY 25

The Big Reds walloped Weirton 61 to 50 by using a blazing fast break and an effective full court press. In the first period, the Big Reds scored 17 to Weirton's 9, and, by the half, the Riders were trailing by 19 points, the score 36 to 17. The second half was a different story when the Riders controlled the back boards, fouled up our fast break, and got their shooting range. The Weirton team then made an astounding comeback and chopped a 20 point lead down to 10 points inside of four minutes. With 2 minutes 41 seconds remaining, Weirton had our lead down to seven points. Then the Big Reds fought it back to 10 and once more the Riders cut it to 7. Then, with 90 seconds remaining, Chuck Eddy was fouled twice. He basketed all four shots and insured the Big Red victory. The game ended Big Reds 61, Weirton 50.

BIG REDS VS. TRIADELPHIA

JANUARY 26

The Triadelphia game was a very close one for the Big Reds. In the first quarter, the Big Reds were trailing 8 points at one time. Nevertheless, the Big Reds' scoring picked up and they ended the quarter 12 to 15. The scoring was the same in the second quarter, the Big Reds making 12 points to Triadelphia's 15 and the first half ended 30 to 24. When the third quarter started, Dave Coulter fortunately found the range and made 10 points. Backed by consistent scoring by the rest of the team, the points doubled to end the third quarter 54 to 43, the Big Reds leading. In the fourth quarter the lead changed hands rapidly five times before the Big Reds came out on top to end the game 59-55.

BIG REDS VS. POINT PLEASANT

JANUARY 29

The Point Pleasant game was one of the best games, spectator-wise, to be played by the Big Reds. Both teams were very evenly matched as to size and dexterity, also to the fact that both teams were undefeated. In the first quarter, Point Pleasant trailed closely behind the Big Reds as they did in the following quarters. Nine times in the game the Blacks came within one point of the Reds only to be pushed back. Finally the Blacks pulled ahead 71 to 70 in the third quarter. Then Dave Coulter, who had been playing a spectacular game all evening, came through with Walters and Alexander to score 12 points which, with the rest of the players' tallies, made the final score 86-77.

BIG REDS VS. HUNTINGTON EAST

FEBRUARY 2

Up until the Huntington East game, our Big Reds had been undefeated and were holding doggedly onto a 13 game winning streak. The Reds had everything well under control through the first half which ended 44 to 35. When play commenced, things still looked good until the last few moments of the third quarter when Huntington East roared back and scored 8 straight points to end the third quarter 56-55, Parkersburg leading. In the fatal fourth quarter, Walters gave us a 60-57 point lead with 4 minutes 48 seconds left. Huntington's Johnny Frye then hit on two jump shots and put the Highlanders in the lead, 61 to 60. With 2 minutes 50 seconds left, Frye was fouled and added one point for a two point lead. Huntington then tried to freeze the ball, but Melvin Haas was fouled. He missed his free throw and Fields then made a basket which was followed by one by Frye. Fields tied the score 12 seconds later when he scored after a tip from Ambrose. The Highlanders held the ball for 45 seconds and then Frye and Midkiff scored to win the game in the last seconds 68 to 64.

This year the Little Reds, coached by Mr. Sayre, played a nineteen game season, winning ten of the nineteen. Often they played the Reserves of the team opposed by the Big Reds. One of their rougher games was with the Belpre Varsity, who made a very commendable showing in the games they played with other Ohio teams.

The Little Reds gave a good account of themselves on all occasions, compiling a favorable record, and learning much to help them in future play with the Big Reds. Outstanding performances were given by Larry Tracewell, Mike Friend, Bob Snyder, and Ralph Westfall.

The Big Red Wrestling team this year has been one of the best in the history of P. H. S. Coach Dutton, who handles both golf and wrestling, seems to be singularly blessed by good luck because both teams have consistently taken top honors.

During the entire wrestling season the Big Reds compiled a grand total of 314 points. To realize what this number of points means is to compare it with the total number compiled by the opponents of the Big Reds—49. Out of their nine matches, the highest number of points ever piled up against them was 13 racked up by the Bridgeport grapplers against our team's 32. The matches fought by the Big Reds, who were never defeated were:

Total 81 points

Coach Dutton said of the Bridgeport match, "It was the toughest match we had all season." Also he said that it was one they had very much wanted to win because of the rivalry. The boys really backed him up—22 to 12.

The Regional Tournament was played at Wheeling, where the boys qualified in all ten weight classes. The State Tournament was held in Memorial Field House, with the Big Reds scoring the highest total of points and copping five first places, one second place, and four third places. Also emerging from the State Tournament were five members of the P. H. S. squad who took first places: James Mattern 103 pounds, Ronald Wines 120 pounds, Carl Gray 138 pounds, Bob Paxton 165 pounds, and Paul Hoblitzell in the unlimited class.

APRIL 6, RAVENSWOOD

In the first inning, the Big Reds started the scoring with two runs. The Ravenswood Devils then tied the score and added one in the second. The score was then 3 to 2, and it didn't change until the sixth inning. In the sixth, Bowersock tripled and Hupp drove him on. Ravenswood also scored, leaving the score 4 to 3 going into the seventh. In the seventh, the Big Reds wound up and grabbed off six points, leaving Ravenswood flatfooted 9 to 4, and winning the first game of the season.

APRIL 12, PARKERSBURG CATHOLIC

The Big Reds started the game on the back side of a 7 to 4 score. Then they steadied down in the final five innings to hold the Crusaders scoreless. The Big Reds pulled ahead 8 to 7 with four runs in the third frame, and both teams were scoreless in the fourth. The Reds perked up in the sixth and scored two more; then climaxed the game by crossing the plate seven times in the seventh inning, the last time, a home run by Dave Coulter. The game ended 17 all.

APRIL 19, RAVENSWOOD

This day, Ravenswood suffered their second loss at the hands of the Big Reds. The P. H. S. boys took the lead with singles in the first and second innings, making the score 2 to 0. In the third, the Reds loaded the bases but didn't score. They avenged themselves in the fourth, however, by walking two men. Then Darrell Hupp singled, making the score 4 to 0. In the fifth frame both teams scored, Eddy walloping a home run for the final Big Red tally. Ravenswood proceeded to score once in the bottom of the seventh, making the final score 5 to 2 in favor of the Big Reds.

APRIL 20, ATHENS

In the first inning, Athens racked up two points and held their 2 to 0 lead until the top of the fifth. In the fifth, Woods hit a home run which began the rout. He was followed by three other batters who loaded the bases. Then Dave Coulter smacked the second home run in the fifth inning to make the score 5 to 2. But that wasn't all. Two other batters got on and Eddy slugged another homer to total the fifth inning score at 8 to 2. One run went across in the sixth making the score 9 to 2. Both teams went scoreless in the seventh. The game ended Parkersburg 9, Athens 2.

APRIL 21, PENNSBORO

Alas! Alack! Pennsboro broke our four game winning streak. The game was tied 0 to 0 until the fifth inning when the Big Reds tagged the Cardinal pitcher for the final score of the game. Then, in the sixth, the Big Reds poled out three more and Pennsboro got three, making the score 4 to 3. In the bottom of the seventh, pitcher Jim Bowersock was nursing a slim 4 to 3 lead when Walters erred, permitting two men to cross the plate before the third man was put out for the last out of the inning. That made the final score 5 to 4 in favor of Pennsboro, thus breaking our winning streak.

The 1956 Track Season began auspiciously when the Big Reds defeated the Stonewall Jackson Generals at Laidley Field, March 31. This was the first time in forty-one consecutive meets that the Generals lost a meet. The Big Reds also won over Huntington High by one quarter of a point, 50 $\frac{1}{4}$ to 50. Taking first places were Bill Fields—discus, John Pfalzgraf—mile run, and Jim Deem, Gale Doss, Bill Thorn, and Frank Leep—880-yard relay team.

Parkersburg, who had ended Stonewall Jackson's winning streak the week before, finished in fifth place at the Wheeling Relays on April 7. Fields was the only Big Red participant who took a first place. Second places in the 880-yard run and 120-yard hurdles, respectively, were won by Crofton and Brothers.

On April 14 at the Big Five Meet on Stadium Field, the Big Reds took second place and the Charleston Mountain Lions, first—88 $\frac{1}{2}$ to 59 $\frac{1}{4}$.

The P. H. S. thinclads posted another win in a triangular meet with Marietta and Belpre, April 18, capturing eleven of the fifteen first places; Marietta took the other four.

In the Huntington Relays, April 21, the Big Reds finished in fourth place with 33 $\frac{5}{7}$ points. Again Fields collected the only first place.

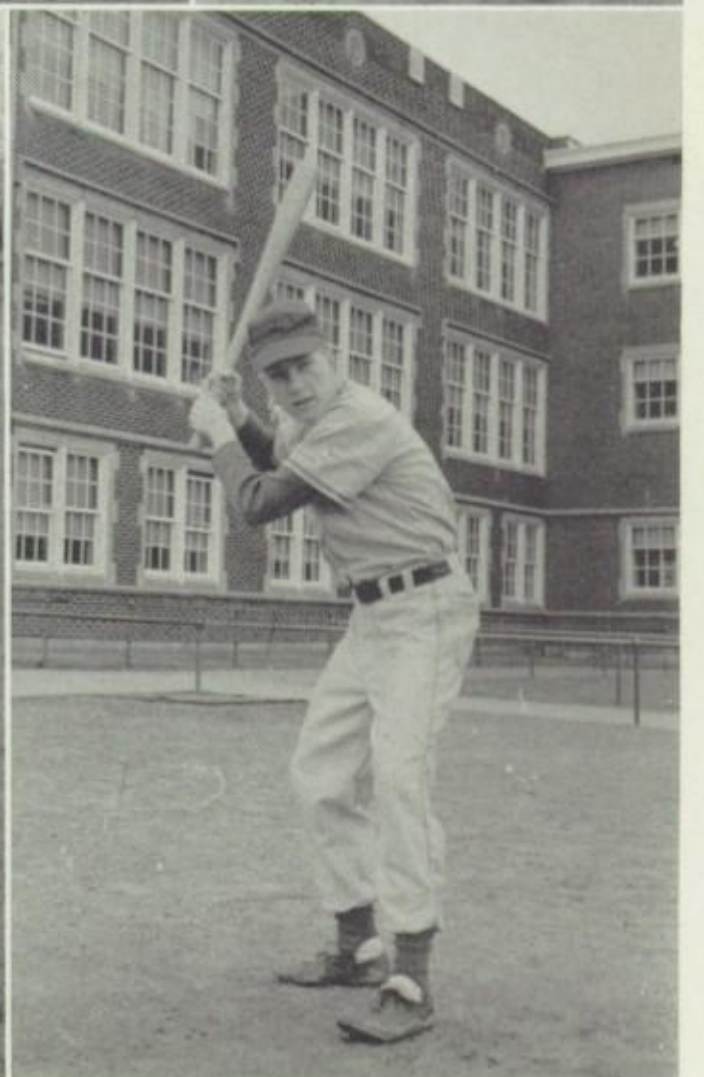

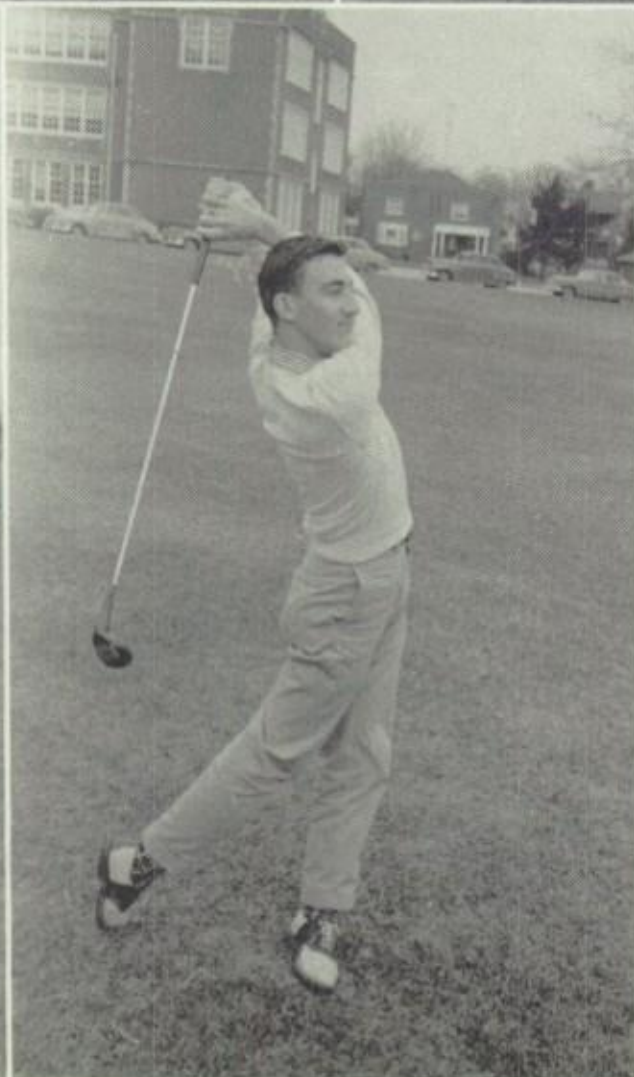

At the Gazette Relays, April 28, Matt Crofton broke his own half-mile mark, Bill Fields broke his own discus throw record, and John Pfalzgraf won the mile run.

On May 5, the Big Red trackmen easily won the Regional Meet at Stadium Field with 105 $\frac{1}{2}$ points against the 76 $\frac{3}{4}$ points for the runner-up, Huntington High. At this meet they qualified nineteen individuals and three relay teams for the State Meet.

In the State Meet, May 12, Charleston took highest honors, Dunbar, the runner-up position, Parkersburg, third place, and Stonewall, fourth.

April 21	Big Reds—first place	Monongah, Morgantown
April 28	Big Reds—first place	Athens, Marietta
May 2	Big Reds 13	Sistersville 4½
May 12	Big Reds 9	Athens 8-38
May 18	Big Reds 11½	Sistersville 9½
May 29—State Meet	Big Reds—second place	Triadelphia—first place

The P. H. S. Big Red Golf team began their 1956 season with an impressive victory over Morgantown and Monongah in a match held at the Parkersburg Country Club. The Big Reds racked up a score of 25½ points to Morgantown's 12, and Monongah's 4½. This first match was a good indication of the kind of season that was to follow.

In the ensuing matches, the Big Reds defeated all opposition, with the exception of Triadelphia in the State Meet, emerging with a five out of five record in their regular schedule.

Their next victory was a triangular match in Athens with Athens and Marietta, the score totaling Big Reds 20½, Athens 12, and Marietta 12½.

The next match, with Sistersville, was played on the Big Reds' home ground, the Parkersburg Country Club. Sistersville, like the teams preceding them, fell to Parkersburg 13½ to 4½.

For the fourth match, the Big Reds played the Athens team at the local country club, setting them back 9 to 3 and adding another victory to the P. H. S. slate.

The last match to be played in the regular season was with the die-hard Sistersville team, which lost to the Big Reds 11½ to 9½, bringing to a close the best season the P. H. S. golfers have ever had.

In the State Meet, held at Parkersburg, May 29, the Big Reds suffered their first defeat, losing first place to Triadelphia, but defeating Sistersville to take second place.

The ratings of the players were as follows: Gerald Bailes, 24½; Ed Nulter, 23½; Burton Dudding, 20; Ted Cundiff, 16; Bob Burk, 10½; Sherman Dils, 6½; and Don Woollard, 4.

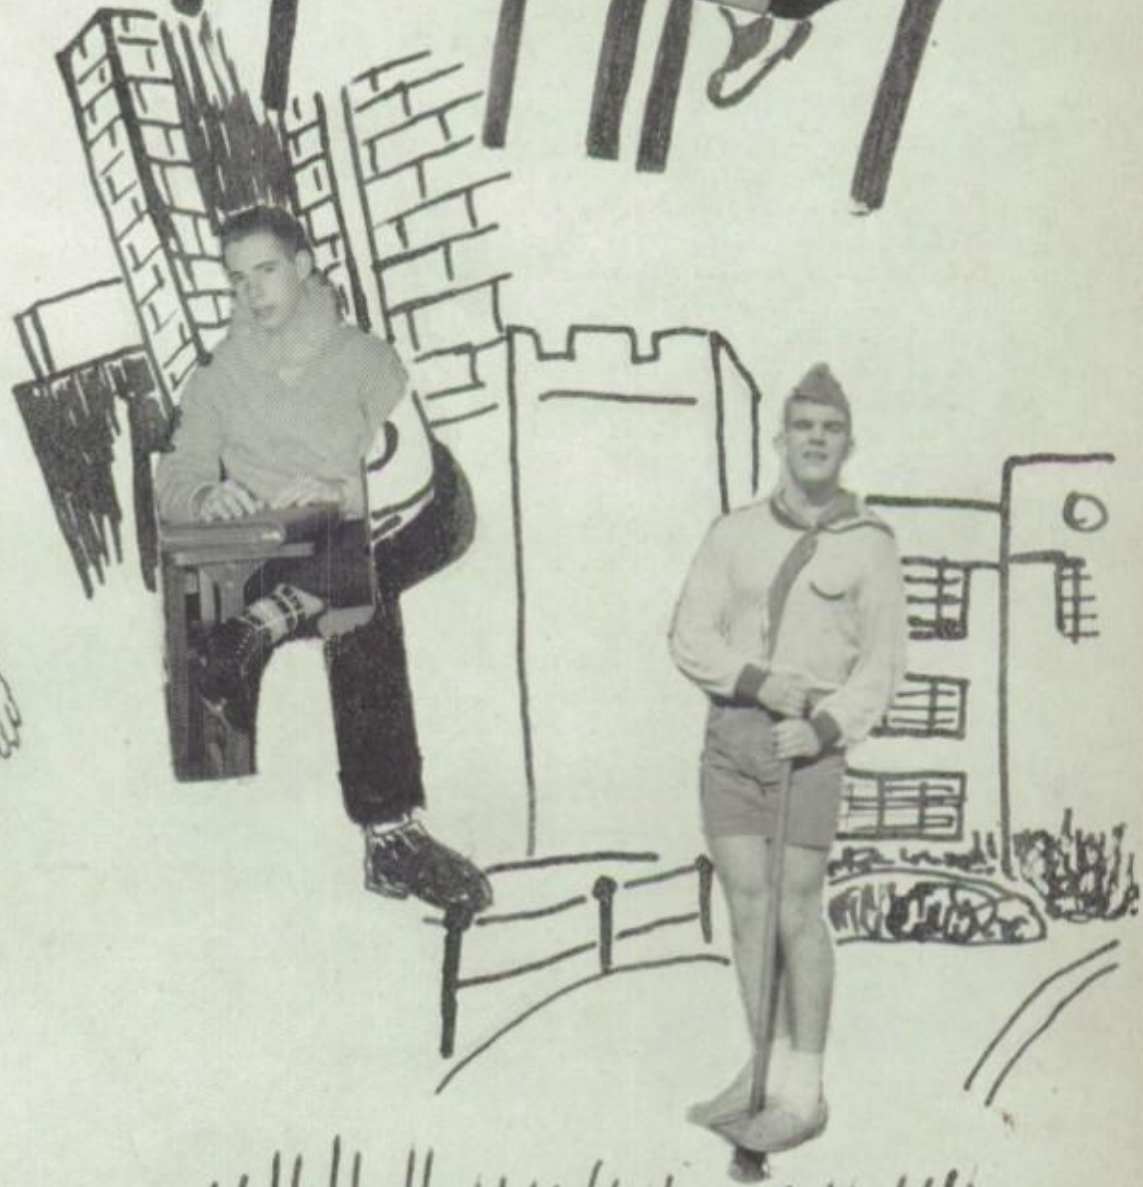

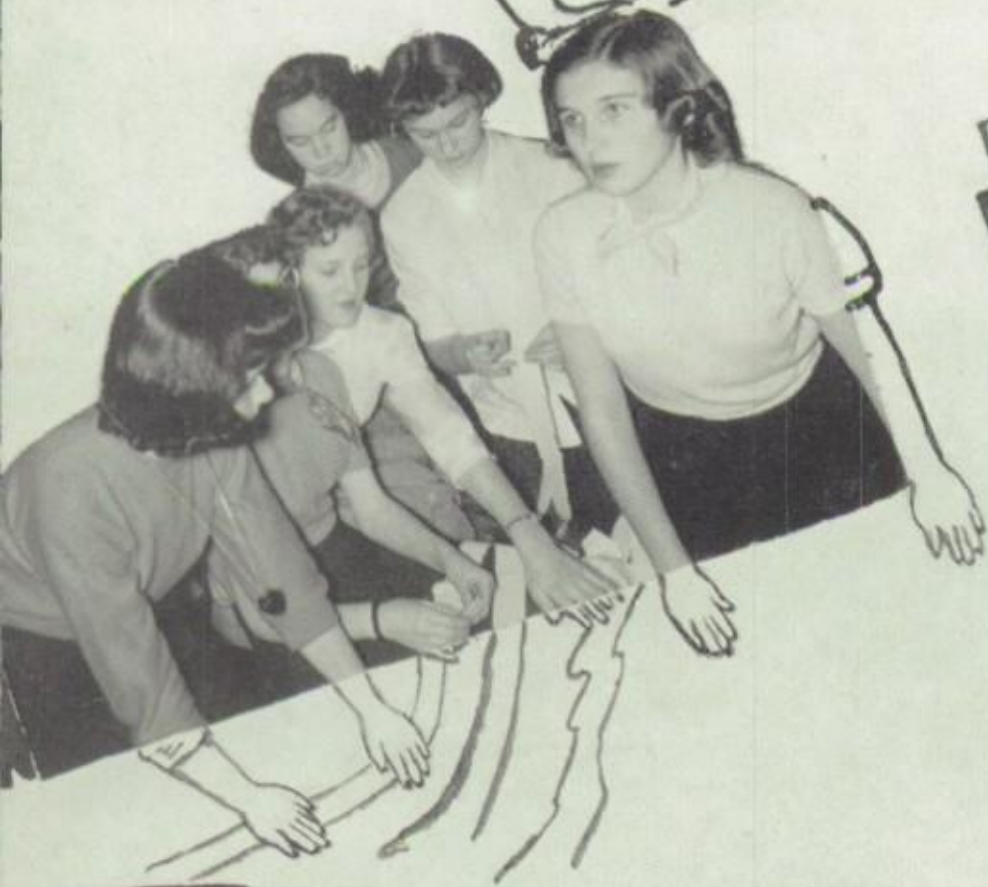

1957 Sports Carnival

Hundreds of students practiced many long hours in order to stage the 1957 Sports Carnival, a program that has received statewide recognition. This year the carnival opened with the Coronation Dance by the freshman girls, followed by modern dances representing the various holidays of the year—Christmas, Valentine, and Easter (Bunny)—square dancing, and a marching routine. All participants appeared in a most delightful array of costumes. The boys showed their agility at tumbling and gymnastics in a six man dive pyramid and the shooting star. The remaining events of the Intramural schedule were played off to determine the champions in each. The tug of war contest was one of these.

Fictitious Facts

In the past school year many strange incidents have occurred. In the following pages these events have been changed into "Fictitious Facts." We hope that you will enjoy our little flights into the world of fantasy.

LILLIE STONE received a beautiful gem for Christmas from you know who. We hear that BILL JOHNSON is a connoisseur of hillbilly music. This was the third high school that ORALEE RICHARDSON attended and she liked it best of all. Curly headed ROLAND NUTTER has the nickname "Toni." Be sure to get your groceries checked out at SHIRLEY VINCENT'S counter at the A & P. RUBY SOMERVILLE, we'll wager, is one of the best cooks in the graduating class of 1957. DOUG TAYLOR is the secret heart throb of several girls at P.H.S. WENDALL SUMMERS would like to rock and roll the underclassmen. Does CAROLYN WALKER have a chauffeur's license? Save your cavities and take them to DICK YOUNG when he gets his D.D.S.

BARBARA WILSON thinks black '49 Fords are exceptionally nice. Being a foot soldier in the Marines will wear out BOB GANDEE'S shoes. Since she has a sweet tooth, LIBBY BRYNER must work for a candy factory. Do you think WAIDE MILLS will ever fly a model airplane? RONITA FISHER is the only person who can rock and roll and eat pecan pie at the same time. BURL LIFE would like to work at Parkersburg Rig and Reel after graduation. If KAREN ANDERSON keeps on trying to be good and kind, we're sure she'll be a great success. RUSS "Tink" MOWERY wonders if he is a success at a failure or a failure at a success. The pie that KATHRYN BROWN enjoys all year round is featured at Thanksgiving. JOE HOLLAND attends Big League Baseball games at Pittsburgh quite frequently. Will VIDA SAMPSON inherit the job of manager of G. C. Murphy's? Someday we will see JANET GREEN playing with the New York Philharmonic. ADA HEATER divides her interests between art and watching Bob Cummings on TV. TAMARA SINCLAIR liked to watch the "Don" rise over Parkersburg!

You will never find ETTAJANE RICE quarreling! We predict that ANNETTE WILLIAMS will someday win the Davis Cup for her tennis! DOROTHY MAE DUNLAP'S hobby of crocheting should come in handy in married life. During the summer, ROSE ELLEN YOCUM could be found at the miniature golf course. Before long DON WOLLARD will be a real "pro" at golf!! KAY PIGGOTT proved her musical talent by being selected for the All-State Orchestra. AMY ROSS was very active in girls' sports at P. H. S. Is CLARENCE LAYMAN "WORTHY" of a Cessna 310 airplane? "CURTIS" was the "ROOT" of the aircraft mechanics shop. JACK SWISHER eats imported steaks, courtesy of the Wood County Airport. NORMA JEAN DENNIS likes to hear the "Russell" of leaves. AUGUSTUS KARR is devoted to the institute of bachelorhood. All giggle-boxes are silent in the presence of JOANNE FOX. BARRY BAXTER is not the only boy who likes D-A haircuts. Why was English BETTY FOX'S favorite subject? FRANK DAVIS was a "krazy kat" on the lathe in Machine Shop.

Is JAMES WALKER a rough neck with the juniors in the Auto Shop? PEGGY LIFE would like to know if every brother is a problem. MIKE SLATON and Arthur Murray should have a dancing contest! ROBERT BURK wished there had been television sets at P. H. S. so he could have watched the World Series. When you hear the tickling of the ivories, you know MARY ANN RIBLET is near. CLEO BOSO is "The People's Choice." LEON WINGROVE is another "Romeo," but who is "Juliet?" JUNE CAPLINGER was a competent secretary for her homeroom. Does GERALD WIGAL eat angel food cake while working at Kroger's. Someday BETTY YEAGER will be a home economist for General Mills. LARRY MOREHEAD, just what is a "draggin' wagon?" JACK STILGENBAUER plans to do his traveling by plane. PRISCILLA WHITLATCH is as changeable as the weather. HAROLD BARNHOUSE works on a bread truck.

JACK BLOOMER saw a ground hog on February 2nd. CLAYTON SALLEE was called "Many Quarters" by the football team. MARY LOU HEATER will someday be a great photographer of cats. CARL SURFACE will never forget, "Do you have a pass slip?" Does ARDEN BURGE have time to do any loafing at Barge-loh's Dairy? EDWIN CURREY won the "Talent Scout Show" by the impersonation of a rabbit. HAROLD JOHNSON'S ambition is to own an Apache airplane. Although he has a very nice girl, BURL BALDERSON spends a great deal of time working on his car. Wonder why KAREN OWENS liked to vacation in Canada? JERRY STEPHENS has a sleepy look on Sunday; he had a Sunday morning paper route. SHARON SAMS should answer questions on the Bible on the $64,000 Question. We wonder why TOM HOLZBERGER disliked Larry Hill's car. IANICE SCHULTE wished she were a boy so she could be a farmer. WAYNE BARRETT didn't enjoy being in the Band car on the specials as much this year for some odd reason.

JANET SAYRE will make a good airline hostess for Pan American!! WAYNE CAR was always fishing for French-fried shrimp?? Was Safe Driving Club beneficial for GERALD SPEARS? EDITH COOPER says that she appreciates well-mannered persons! THELMA WRIGHT is known by two names—the other being Lorene. We are sure THELMA SECKMAN will make a good secretary in the religious field. JUDITH WRISTON will be thrilled when she receives her nurse's cap.

Wheel of Fortune

Big Red Baseball

APRIL 23, PARKERSBURG CATHOLIC

The Big Reds opened the game by putting two men on, Walters and Coulter. Gary Woods then batted them in with a fiery drive to center. In the second inning, they scored three more runs, making the score 5 to 0. The fourth and fifth were fruitless throughout for both teams. In the sixth, the Big Reds really piled on and chalked up six runs for the inning, completing the scoring for the game. No one scored in the seventh, and the final score of the game was 11 to 0, completely shutting out Parkersburg Catholic.

APRIL 28, WEIRTON

In this game the Big Reds were never on top until Darrell Hupp's game-winning smash to left field with two away in the bottom of the ninth. In the first inning Weirton got two to Parkersburg's one. The second was scoreless and the Big Reds picked up one in the third, making the score 2 to 2. In the fourth, the Weirton team got one on an error, and the fifth was scoreless. In the sixth, Weirton racked up two more and the Big Reds got three to tie the score 5 to 5. The sixth and seventh were scoreless and the game went into overtime. The eighth was scoreless, and in the bottom of the ninth Darrell Hupp singled to score Jim Summers and win the game 6 to 5.

MAY 1, PENNSBORO

Pennsboro High continued to be the chief thorn in our side, for on this date their relentless nine beat us again, making our second loss. The Big Reds looked very good, and it seemed as if we would avenge our previous loss to Pennsboro as we pulled ahead 5 to 1 in the first three innings. We got our last point in the fourth as Pennsboro stacked up four in their half of the inning, making the score 6 to 5, our favor. In the fifth inning, they put the "whammy" on us by scoring three runs. This made the score 8 to 6 in favor of Pennsboro. The Big Reds threatened seriously through both the sixth and seventh innings but failed to cash in either time.

MAY 4, ST. MARYS

St. Marys dealt the Big Reds their second straight loss and third of the season. It was one of those games when the opponent can do no wrong. Gene Stewart of St. Marys pitched a no hitter except for a bunt by Steve Hardman and an infield single by Frank Walters. Dave Coulter also got on base with a bunt which was bobbed by Stewart. Otherwise, no Parkersburg man got on base. In the meantime, however, three St. Marys players scampered across the plate to end the game 3 to 0 in favor of St. Marys.

MAY 5, WEST MILFORD

This game was the last in the regular season. West Milford started off well but couldn't hold it, seemingly. They got three points in the first inning while the Reds went scoreless. In the second we picked up one. The third inning was scoreless, with both teams threatening. In the fourth, the Big Reds came back and scored three points, making the score 5 to 3 in our favor. In the fifth, both teams scored twice, making the fifth inning total 6 to 5 in our favor. In the sixth, West Milford scored once to tie the game. The seventh was scoreless and the game went into overtime. The eighth, ninth, and tenth innings were also scoreless until, in the bottom of the eleventh inning, Dave Coulter singled to center to score Frank Walters with the winning run, giving the Big Reds a hard-earned 7 to 6 victory.

SECTIONAL TOURNAMENT

After a good season, seven won out of ten, the Big Reds engaged Point Pleasant in tournament combat. Point Pleasant fell to the Big Reds 7 to 3.

The next game in the sectionals was with Williamstown, whom the Big Reds dispatched with great alacrity 16 to 0.

The finals in the Sectional Tournament were played between the Big Reds and Ripley. Once more the Big Reds emerged victorious, winning 5 to 1. By winning this game we broke the fifteen-game winning streak of Ripley, and became the Champion of Section 15, eligible for regional competition.

We played and were defeated by Pennsboro, for the third time, in the Regional Tournament 9 to 7. However, after a good season and winning the Sectional Championship, who can complain?

Party Time

Big Red Basketball

BIG REDS VS. SPENCER FEBRUARY 5

The first half of the battle with Spencer was difficult for the Big Reds, who failed to gain the lead permanently until only four minutes of the half remained. In those last four minutes, Walters, who was on a 37 point scoring jag this game, scored frequently and the Big Reds closed the first half 39 to 32. In the third quarter, the Big Reds pulled away from Spencer quickly when they scored 31 points with Walters claiming 17 of them. The Big Reds held the Yellow Jackets to 18 points that quarter to end the third frame 70 to 50. The fourth quarter was uneventful due to the commanding Big Red lead and the game ended 90 to 65.

BIG REDS VS. HUNTINGTON FEBRUARY 8

The Big Reds started the game slowly, trading basket for basket with Huntington, until Fields and Walters began hitting and slowly pulled ahead only to lose most of their lead and end the first half 52 to 50. The Big Reds then blew their two point lead and were behind 62-74. At this time the Big Red offense picked up, and when the fourth quarter began, the score was 74 to 76, Huntington's favor. The two teams traded baskets for the first few minutes of the fourth quarter. Then Coulter and Walters got the fast break to bring the score to 79 to 78 with 5 minutes 40 seconds remaining. Fields then tipped in a foul shot for three points and put the Reds ahead to stay. The Express came close at 87 to 86, but Alexander connected from the foul line and Fields rebounded the free throw to place the Big Reds ahead by four points. Parkersburg managed to hold the Express scoreless for the remaining seconds and the game ended Big Reds 92, Pony Express 86.

BIG REDS VS. MARIETTA FEBRUARY 9

This made the second time in the same season that the Marietta hoopsters succumbed to the might of the Big Reds. In the first half, the two teams traded baskets steadily until, with only 10 seconds gone in the second quarter, the Big Reds broke from a 14 to 14 tie and scored rapidly while holding the Ohioans to a near standstill. The first half ended with the Big Reds leading 31 to 19. In the second half, Bill Fields broke the game wide open with several jump shots from the side. At the three quarter mark, the score was 49 to 28. In the fourth quarter, both teams sent in their substitutes. Our Reserves outscored theirs 26 to 19, ending the game 75 to 47.

BIG REDS VS. CHARLESTON FEBRUARY 15

The Charleston game was one of the roughest played by the Big Reds. The two teams alternated the lead by only a few points throughout the first half. At the beginning of the third quarter the score was tied at 38. The game remained close and the third quarter ended with the Big Reds leading 51 to 50. The Big Reds led throughout the fourth quarter until the final seconds when Anderson made the basket that tied the game. In the overtime, Douglas Shoats of Charleston recovered a loose ball and made his only basket of the evening to break the deadlock and win the game, 69-67.

BIG REDS VS. POINT PLEASANT FEBRUARY 19

With the exception of Bill Fields, the Big Reds played their most lackluster first half of the season. The Point Pleasant players outscored and outplayed us, ending the first half 21-17. We seemed demoralized entirely in the first of the third quarter when the Blacks outscored us 10 points to 2. The Parkersburg boys then got into their customary form and by the end of the third quarter, the lead was down to 5. Then, with 2 minutes 12 seconds left in the game, the big surge came. With 44 seconds remaining in the game, the Big Reds were leading 60 to 59. Fields then fouled Bill Smith, putting Point Pleasant in the lead 61 to 60. A technical foul was called giving Parkersburg a free throw, Coulter made the shot and tied the game 61 to 61. In the overtime the Big Reds outplayed their opponents to end the game 71 to 61.

BIG REDS VS. MOUNDSVILLE FEBRUARY 22

The Big Reds pulled away to an early lead and were never threatened seriously. They started off in the first quarter compiling a 9 to 4 lead and the closing score of the quarter was 22 to 11. In the second quarter, Moundsville did better, but still the Big Reds picked up 25 points to the Trojan's 19 to end the first half 45 to 30, in favor of Parkersburg. In the third, both teams scored 18 points and went into the fourth quarter 63 to 46. The fourth was typical of the fast playing Big Reds as they scored 17 points to Moundsville's 13 to end the game 82 to 61.

BIG REDS VS. WHEELING FEBRUARY 26

The Big Reds met Wheeling for the game that had been scheduled for January but couldn't be played owing to weather conditions. Parkersburg trailed throughout the first quarter but picked up in the second and closed the half with a 14 point lead, 35 to 21. The third quarter started well with Coulter scoring 6 points to boost the Big Red margin 41 to 33. Then Wheeling got 9 straight points to put them in the lead once more. In the fourth quarter, the Big Reds were 9 points behind, but managed to pull up to 69 to 68. The game ended giving Parkersburg its third loss of the year.

REGIONAL PRELIMINARIES MARCH 14

After winning the sectional tournament at St. Marys, the Big Reds went to Moundsville where they outplayed Victory of Clarksburg 86 to 52. The game started very slowly with each team testing the other. The Big Reds were a little off in their shooting, throwing the ball away several times and making eight fouls in the first quarter. Victory wasn't hitting either, and the quarter ended 13 to 10 in our favor. The second quarter was a seesaw battle until Coulter and Walters made baskets; meanwhile, Victory crowded up to the game 17 to 17. At this point, the Big Reds quickened the pace and went into a twenty point scoring streak which lasted into the third quarter. The third was the Big Reds', the score at the end being 59 to 49. In the fourth quarter, the Victory team lost all their pep and the Big Reds outscored them 27 to 13 to win the game 86 to 52.

REGIONAL FINALS MARCH 16

The Regional Finals looked good for the Big Reds, but unexpectedly the Wheeling Wildcats defeated them to win the regional championship and close the competition. The game was so fast all the way that no one could tell who would win. The lead changed hands four times in the first quarter, which ended 18 to 14 for Wheeling. The second quarter was similar except that Wheeling continued to pull away and ended the half 38 to 29. In the last of the third quarter, the Big Reds were 12 points behind. In the fourth, they twice managed to pull up to 3 points, but the Wildcats put on the pressure and squeezed them out to end the game 68-65. During the season the Big Reds lost only four of their twenty-three games; Wheeling lost five of their twenty.

This is a collage of black and white photographs from a 1950s yearbook. The photos are arranged in a non-linear, overlapping fashion. At the top left, there are several small portraits of individual students. Below these, a larger photo shows a group of girls standing in front of a school bus. To the right, another group of girls is shown, some sitting and some standing. In the center, a large photo features a girl in a white shirt and dark skirt. To her right, a group of girls is seen holding a long object, possibly a telescope or a prop. Below the central photo, a group of boys is standing together. To the right of them, a group of boys is sitting on the ground. At the bottom center, a large group photo shows many students posing together. To the right of this, a boy is wearing a top hat, and a girl is holding a book. In the bottom left, a girl is standing in a white dress. The overall theme is student life and activities from the mid-20th century.
